The Anorexic Experience:

The Anorexic Experience Marilyn Lawrence, 1995 Discusses the disorder of anorexia from the premise that it may be a reflection of problems encountered by women in our society and not necessarily the result of individual circumstances

The Anorexic Experience Marilyn LAWRENCE, 1995 The Anorexic Self Paula Saukko, 2008-05-08 Traditionally women's eating disorders are thought to be strongly influenced by media images idealizing a normative thin female body Taking a different approach The Anorexic Self critically examines diagnostic and popular discourses on anorexia that construct narrow and ideal notions of the female self Paula Saukko analyzes the personal and political implications of discourses on the anorexic self in multiple contexts including her own experience of being diagnosed anorexic psychiatrist Hilde Bruch's postwar research on anorexia and media coverage of Karen Carpenter Princess Diana and other women with eating disorders Saukko traces the history of the discourses from postwar idealization of masculine autonomy to postindustrial valorization of feminine flexibility and also explores their politically progressive and psychologically healing as well as sexist and humiliating dimensions Drawing on narrative therapy dialogic theory and multisited ethnography The Anorexic Self cultivates a less judgmental and more self reflexive way of relating to ourselves others and societies in which we live

Anorexic Bodies Morag MacSween, Morag Macsween, 2013-11-26 This book explores the ways in which anorexic women use their eating to control their bodies It argues that the female body in modern Western culture is understood as open and accessible and female appetite as dangerous and voracious Anorexia attempts to resist both these constructions in the creation of a closed desireless body Since anorexic women resist the power of collective ideologies their resistance cannot work the closed body becomes its own prison A Lacanian Reading of Anorexia Domenico Cosenza, 2023-08-09

This book presents a Lacanian perspective on the understanding and treatment of anorexia supported by case material research and theoretical insight from the author's 25 years of clinical practice Domenico Cosenza explains how anorexia constitutes a challenge for contemporary psychoanalytic clinicians assesses previous theoretical understandings and examines clinical contributions from other schools of psychoanalysis Cosenza argues that anorexia cannot be treated by following a classical psychoanalytic path and here draws on numerous clinical cases to articulate a Lacanian approach which addresses core concerns not resolved elsewhere Elaborating on Lacanian concepts including refusal and the object nothing Cosenza offers a new approach for all psychoanalytically informed clinicians working with anorexia A Lacanian Reading of Anorexia will be of great interest to psychoanalysts psychiatrists clinical psychologists and psychotherapists interested in Lacanian perspectives and the dynamic analytical approach in the treatment of anorexia Reel Food Anne L.

Bower, 2012-08-06 Reel Food is the first book devoted to food as a vibrant and evocative element of film featuring original essays by major food studies scholars among them Carole Counihan and Michael Ashkenazi This collection reads various films through their uses of food from major food films like Babette's Feast and Big Night to less obvious choices including

The Godfather trilogy and The Matrix The contributors draw attention to the various ways in which food is employed to make meaning in film In some cases such as Soul Food and Tortilla Soup for example food is used to represent racial and ethnic identities In other cases such as Chocolat and Like Water for Chocolate food plays a role in gender and sexual politics And of course there is also discussion of the centrality of popcorn to the movie going experience This book is a feast for scholars foodies and cinema buffs It will be of major interest to anyone working in popular culture film studies and food studies at both the undergraduate and graduate level
