  The architecture of memory Grady Eric Connell,1986   The Destruction of Memory Robert Bevan,2007-04-20 Crumbled shells of mosques in Iraq the bombing of British cathedrals in World War II the fall of the World Trade Center towers on September 11 when architectural totems such as these are destroyed by conflicts and the ravages of war more than mere buildings are at stake The Destruction of Memory reveals the extent to which a nation weds itself to its landscape Robert Bevan argues that such destruction not only shatters a nation s culture and morale but is also a deliberate act of eradicating a culture s memory and ultimately its existence Bevan combs through world history to highlight a range of wars and conflicts in which the destruction of architecture was pivotal From Cortez s razing of Aztec cities to the carpet bombings of Dresden and Tokyo in World War II to the war in the former Yugoslavia The Destruction of Memory exposes the cultural war that rages behind architectural annihilation revealing that in this subliminal assault lies the complex aim of exterminating a people He provocatively argues for the fatally intertwined experience of genocide and cultural genocide ultimately proposing the elevation of cultural genocide to a crime punishable by international law In an age in which Frank Gehry I M Pei and Frank Lloyd Wright are revered and yet museums and temples of priceless value are destroyed in wars around the world Bevan challenges the notion of collateral damage arguing that it is in fact a deliberate act of war   The Architecture and Memory of the Minority Quarter in the Muslim Mediterranean City Susan Gilson Miller,Mauro Bertagnin,2010 The Harvard Design School is a leading center for education information and technical expertise on the built environment Its departments of Architecture Landscape Architecture and Urban Planning and Design offer masters and doctoral degree programs and provide the foundation for its Advanced Studies and Executive Education programs Book Jacket   Designing Memory Sabina Tanović,2019-11-28 This innovative study of memorial architecture investigates how design can translate memories of human loss into tangible structures creating spaces for remembering Using approaches from history psychology anthropology and sociology Sabina Tanovi explores purposes behind creating contemporary memorials in a given location their translation into architectural concepts their materialisation in the face of social and political challenges and their influence on the transmission of memory Covering the period from the First World War to the present she looks at memorials such as the Holocaust museums in Mechelen and Drancy as well as memorials for the victims of terrorist attacks to unravel the private and public role of memorial architecture and the possibilities of architecture as a form of agency in remembering and dealing with a difficult past The result is a distinctive contribution to the literature on history and memory and on architecture as a link to the past   Yad Vashem: Moshe Safdie - the Architecture of Memory Joan Ockman,2006   The Architecture of Memory S. Arden Hill,2010 In this book I was thinking a lot about memory My personal relationship with memory is questionable Having suffered a somewhat serious concussion a few years ago I struggle with some key experiences and their memories It has let me to ask the questions about how many experiences come between the moment of the memory and engaging in the memory itself How do they pad or alter our memory or knowledge of the incident we are trying to remember Can we have a fictitious memory Transparencies were the perfect medium for this project as well as an unpainted glue cover I tried to recreate a process of remembering S Arden Hill   The Architecture of Memory Liz Lau,2012   *The Architecture of the Memory.
