The Archaeology of the Early Medieval Celtic Churches: No. 29 Nancy Edwards,2017-10-23 This volume focuses on new research on the archaeology of the early medieval Celtic churches c AD 400 1100 in Wales Ireland Scotland south west Britain and Brittany The 21 papers use a variety of approaches to explore and analyse the archaeological evidence for the origins and development of the Church in these areas The results of a recent multi disciplinary research project to identify the archaeology of the early medieval church in different regions of Wales are considered alongside other new research and the discoveries made in excavations in both Wales and beyond The papers reveal not only aspects of the archaeology of ecclesiastical landscapes with their monasteries churches and cemeteries but also special graves relics craftworking and the economy enabling both comparisons and contrasts They likewise engage with ongoing debates concerning interpretation historiography and the concept of the Celtic Church conversion to Christianity Christianization of the landscape and the changing functions and inter relationships of sites the development of saints cults sacred space and pilgrimage landscapes and the origins of the monastic town Church Archaeology in Transylvania (ca. 950 to ca. 1450) Daniela Marcu-Istrate,2022-09-19 Transylvania has some of the most valuable monuments of medieval architecture in Europe The oldest church was built in the 10th century but most others came into being only after 1200 Later changes have considerably modified the appearance of still standing buildings Written sources are lacking for answers to questions about the identity of the builders and patrons Countering the idea that only standing structures can reflect the history of medieval churches in Transylvania this book uses archaeological sources in order to answer some of those questions and to bring to light the
