Third World Cooperation:

OPEC and the Third World Shireen Hunter, 2019-07-05 Originally published in 1984 this book focuses principally on the use of foreign aid by the members of OPEC in the 1970s and demonstrates how the divisive elements both within OPEC and between OPEC and the rest of the developing world prevented OPEC from using aid to advance developing world objectives It explains why the OPEC countries failed to achieve the goals they set for themselves and will be of interest to all those concerned with the politics of the developing world development assistance Middle East regional economics and political and security issues

The Third World And U.s. Foreign Policy Robert L. Rothstein, 2019-06-25 The quest for a viable policy toward the Third World will be a dominant theme in U S foreign policy throughout this decade But before any judgments can be made about the range of choices for U S policymakers it is necessary to understand the pressures that are likely to confront developing nations during the 1980s as well as the efforts of these nations as a group to extract greater resources and attention from the international system This book considers policy responses that have been and are likely to be implemented by developing nations as they face increasing pressures in the areas of food energy trade and debt the main areas of interaction within the international system The author also presents an analysis of how the North South Dialogue functions and why it has produced so few genuine settlements providing an additional perspective on whether the pressures on the developing countries might be diminished by successful global negotiations The conclusions reached by examining policy responses and the Dialogue itself provide the basis for a number of specific policy prescriptions They also help to establish a framework within which U S policy initiatives toward the Third World must be formed The two concluding chapters discuss these policy choices in detail carefully analyzing the advantages and disadvantages of persisting in present policies attempting a genuine global restructuring choosing to concentrate attention on a few new influential in the Third World and trying to construct a new approach out of selected elements of the other policy approaches

Science And Technology In A Changing International Order Volker Rittberger, 2019-06-21 As part of its contribution to the 1979 United Nations Conference on Science and Technology for Development IUNCSTD the United Nations Institute for Training and Research UNITAR organized an informal research group to assess various aspects of applying science and technology to development through the United Nations system This research group was constituted in early 1978 at the initiative of Dr Robert S Jordan former Director of Research at UNITAR and was headed by Professor Volker Rittberger a UNITAR Special Fellow One of the activities of this group has been the production of a series of working papers on science and technology These papers seek to provide preliminary analyses rather than definitive conclusions Their purpose is to facilitate the access of others to the ongoing work of the group and to stimulate critical comments and reactions leading to further improvement of this work

Multilateral Diplomacy and the Economics of Change Denis Benn, 2003 Multilateral Diplomacy addresses an important historical episode in the struggle of the developing countries to restructure the international economic order that was perceived by them to be an obstacle to development Told from the perspective of a participant in the negotiations the book traces the evolution of the developing countries as actors in the economic system and describes the circumstances which gave rise to the demand for the New International Economic Order It presents a detailed analysis of the negotiations on the NIEO and compares the strategies adopted by the parties to the negotiations The geopolitical context within which the negotiations were carried out is also described Equally important Multilateral Diplomacy highlights the role of South South cooperation as a counter strategy pursued by the developing countries in order to strengthen their bargaining position The study points to the essential continuity between the struggle for the NIEO during the 1970s and the current efforts of developing countries to defend their economic interests in the negotiations taking place within the framework of the World Trade Organization and other similar forums Report of the Conference on Economic Cooperation Among Developing Countries: Decisions of the conference and account of proceedings, 1976 Dialogue for a New Order Khadija Haq, 2013-10-22 Dialogue for a New Order is a collection of papers that discusses the issues in the relationship of developed and developing nations The book covers topics such as monetary reforms strategies for national development and international resource transfers The text details the choices that the South has to make in maintaining its political stability and improving its diplomatic ties Next the selection presents articles about reforming the international monetary and trade framework The next part discusses the long term problems that plague the international community The last part of the text details the critical policy options which can enhance global interdependence and accommodate the legitimate interests of all nations The book will be of great interest to economists political scientists sociologists and game theorists Latin America and the Third World Wolf Grabendorff, 1977 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1979-06 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world The Federal Republic of Germany and the Third World Hildegard Rüd-Schloz, 1987 The Third World Without Superpowers, Second Series Group of 77, 1981 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1979-06 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1979 Israel in the Third World Michael Curtis, Susan Aurelia Gitelson, 1976 Israel has had an unusual experience as both a recipient of foreign aid and as a donor country Although it is small in area and population it has developed the political economic and military capacities of a middle range power It has thus been able to offer expertise to others while it has continued to develop at a rapid pace In terms of location and ethnic background of the majority of the population Israel belongs to Asia and therefore is an integral part of the Third World of Asia Africa and Latin America Israel's economic cultural and political interactions with the Third World are the focal points of this volume The articles reflect the evolution of Israel's position in the Third World the range of its programs and activities and the problems and constraints of its international relations Many of the contributors are Israelis who have been personally connected with diplomatic economic or technical assistance activities In addition to this practical treatment Israeli and American scholars have tried to offer a more detached and objective view of the situation The contributors indicate the contrasting conditions that have affected interchanges with Asian African and Latin American states These views outline the possibilities and limitations of a small or middle range power engaged in a persistent regional conflict to interact normally with other developing countries and share the benefits of its own development experiences Contributors Moshe Alpan Shimeon Amir Ehud Avriel Joel Barromi Michael Brecher Michael Curtis Samuel Decalo Ephraim Dubek Akiva Eger Jacques Fomerand Eli Ginzberg Susan Aurelia Gitelson Irving Louis Horowitz Eliyahu Kanovsky Edy Kaufman Ran Kochan Mordechai E Kreinin Netanel Lorch Meron Medzini Benjamin Rivlin Dan Segre Yoram Shapira Yaacov Shimoni World Focus, 2003 LES Nouvelles, 1989 Development Co-operation and Third World Development Pradip K. Ghosh, 1984-10-24 The past two decades have witnessed an ongoing search for a more coherent basis for development cooperation and the means to satisfy global needs The achievement of better relations among developed and developing countries remains an urgent task as the world community seeks to formulate a new and more equitable economic order Findings in this volume suggest that persistent economic difficulties within industrial countries especially high unemployment and inflationary tendencies have made it clear that the rich and poor countries alike must strive for more effective patterns of world economic and development collaboration Contributors explore cooperation among developing countries as both a means for implementing a new international economic order and a desirable feature of this order This book provides researchers with much needed knowledge about the different sources of information and data available for the study of the objectives goals and methods of development cooperation programs among Third World countries Global Change, 1989 The Law and Economic Development in the Third World P. Ebow Bondzi-Simpson, 1992-04-20 This volume examines critical issues that all developing countries must face Subjects covered include an historical insight into and description of the legal system of a Third World country considerations of intellectual property regimes and suggestions for developing countries insights into the patterns of investment on a continent the bulk of whose members are Third World countries and suggestions for establishing and strengthening legal arrangements in order to attract beneficial investment a critical examination of proposals made during the most recent GATT multilateral trade negotiations and pointers to global trends in the provision of financial services These chapters range from the historical to the contemporary from the descriptive to the analytical and prescriptive and from the theoretical to the empirical In toto the volume seeks to challenge scholars bureaucrats and technocrats in developing countries to critically and candidly examine the causes conditions and magnitude of underdevelopment and to propose and thoroughly critique options available to them As such the volume will be invaluable to
