Wild Enlightenment:

Wild Enlightenment Richard Nash, 2003 Shifting perspective from the thematic approach of intellectual history to a more eclectic cultural criticism Nash introduces a refreshing means to understanding both the figures of the wild man and the citizen of the Enlightenment in the eighteenth century The Wild Girl, Natural Man, and the Monster Julia V. Douthwaite, 2002-06-15 This study looks at the lives of the most famous wild children of eighteenth century Europe showing how they open a window onto European ideas about the potential and perfectibility of mankind Julia V Douthwaite recounts reports of feral children such as the wild girl of Champagne captured in 1731 and baptized as Marie Ang lique Leblanc offering a fascinating glimpse into beliefs about the difference between man and beast and the means once used to civilize the uncivilized A variety of educational experiments failed to tame these feral children by the standards of the day After telling their stories Douthwaite turns to literature that reflects on similar experiments to perfect human subjects Her examples range from utopian schemes for progressive childrearing to philosophical tales of animated statues from revolutionary theories of regenerated men to Gothic tales of scientists run amok Encompassing thinkers such as Rousseau Sade Defoe and Mary Shelley Douthwaite shows how the Enlightenment conceived of mankind as an infinitely malleable entity first with optimism then with apprehension Exposing the darker side of eighteenth century thought she demonstrates how advances in science gave rise to troubling ethical concerns as parents scientists and politicians tried to perfect mankind with disastrous results Europe's Indians Vanita Seth, 2010-08-03 A historical and philosophical argument that the classification of humans into racial categories or binaries of self other is a product of modernity The Smell of Slavery Andrew Kettler, 2020-05-28 In the Atlantic World different groups were aromatically classified in opposition to other ethnic gendered and class assemblies due to an economic necessity that needed certain bodies to be defined as excremental which culminated in the creation of a progressive tautology that linked Africa and waste through a conceptual hendiadys born of capitalist licentiousness The African subject was defined as a scented object appropriated as filthy to create levels of ownership through discourse that marked African peoples as unable to access spaces of Western modernity Embodied cultural knowledge was potent enough to alter the biological function of the five senses to create a European olfactory consciousness made to sense the African other as foul Fascinating informative and deeply researched The Smell of Slavery exposes that concerns with pungency within the Western self were emitted outward upon the freshly dug outhouse of the mass slave grave called the Atlantic World Sounding Human Deirdre Loughridge, 2024-01-05 An expansive analysis of the relationship between human and machine in music From the mid eighteenth century on there was a logic at work in musical discourse and practice human or machine That discourse defined a boundary of absolute difference between human and machine with a recurrent practice of parsing human musicality from its merely mechanical simulations In Sounding Human Deirdre Loughridge tests and traverses these boundaries unmaking the human or machine logic and seeking out others better characterized by conjunctions such as and or with Sounding Human enters the debate on posthumanism and human machine relationships in music exploring how categories of human and machine have been continually renegotiated over the centuries Loughridge expertly traces this debate from the 1737 invention of what became the first musical android to the creation of a sound wave instrument by a British electronic music composer in the 1960s and the chopped and pitched vocals produced by sampling singers voices in modern pop music From music generating computer programs to older musical instruments and music notation Sounding Human shows how machines have always actively shaped the act of music composition In doing so Loughridge reveals how musical artifacts have been or can be used to help explain and contest what it is to be human

Time, History, and Political Thought John Robertson,2023-06-22 Between the cliché that a week is a long time in politics and the aspiration of many political philosophers to give their ideas universal timeless validity lies a gulf which the history of political thought is uniquely qualified to bridge For that history shows that no conception of politics has dispensed altogether with time and many have explicitly sought legitimacy in association with forms of history Ranging from Justinian s law codes to rival Protestant and Catholic visions of political community after the Fall from Hobbes and Spinoza to the Scottish Enlightenment and from Kant and Savigny to the legacy of German Historicism and the Algerian Revolution this volume explores multiple ways in which different conceptions of time and history have been used to understand politics since late antiquity Bringing together leading contemporary historians of political thought Time History and Political Thought demonstrates just how much both time and history have enriched the political imagination

Thought....A Calm Mind Tara Hoffman,2021-05-31 I was driven to write this book because I saw a tragedy When you see a tragedy can you remain silent I know I can t I didn t witness an horrific slaughter of many people a terrorist bomb that exploded in my hometown or a young mid pubescent boy walk into a school open his backpack and proceed to slaughter his classmates and teachers with a gun he found in his parent s closet But the tragedy I witness now and for many years is the abandonment of the human spirit Many teachers and gurus have told me they believe that people are beginning to wake up to the fact that material goods are not the answer to finding their bliss And they are beginning to pay attention to their spiritual lives I hope that is correct but somehow I have not been witness to a spiritual awakening in this country I see people going through the spiritual motions using their training wheels to prove to themselves and others that they are on the spiritual path I have critical news for them The Path to Enlightenment has nothing to do with smiling and showing you are a kind person Those behaviors will get you into the doors of heaven if that s where your path takes you but not to full enlightenment For that goal there is a much different path It s simple but it s not easy When I began to see the absolute purity in Nature and wild animals such as deer hummingbirds hawks wolves honey bees and wild turkeys I realized that the animal mind is very simple less complicated than that of humans Then I remembered a question a student asked of His Holiness the Dalai Lama Honorable one are you an enlightened being The answer His Holiness gave was I am only a simple monk Although His Holiness is a living Buddha proclaiming his enlightenment would have been arrogant Instead he presented a clue when he gave his answer to show us that the more simple the mind the easier our journey to enlightenment Using the simple animal mind as a model is the answer My deep relationships with many wild animals gave me the key I was seeking and it is shared with you in this introductory book I hope you enjoy it and stayed tuned for BOOK 2 FREE the MIND FOR THOSE WHO ARE TRULY READY Shobogenzo The True Dharma-Eye Treasury IV □□,2007 Shobogenzo The True Dharma eye Treasury Taisho No 2582 is the masterwork of the thirteenth century Zen master Eihei Dogen founder of the Soto sect of Japanese Zen Buddhism This reprint edition presents Volume 4 of the exemplary translation by Gudo Wafu Nishijima and Chodo Cross of the complete ninety five chapter edition of the Shobogenzo compiled by the Zen master Hangyo Kozen in the late seventeenth century Yearbook of the Central Conference of American Rabbis Central Conference of American Rabbis,1904 Year Book of the Central Conference of American Rabbis ,1905 [From Neoclassicism to Romanticism.
