Grammatical Voice M. H. Klaiman, 2005-11-24 Categories of the verb in natural languages include tense aspect modality mood and voice Among these voice in its rich and diverse manifestations is perhaps the most complex But most prior research concentrates on only certain types predominantly passives Voice expresses relations between a predicate and a set of nominal positions or their referents in a clause or other structure Grammatical Voice is the first typological study of voice systems based on a multi language survey It introduces a threefold classification of voice types in the first place distinguishing passivization phenomena derived voice from active middle systems basic voice and further distinguishing each of these from pragmatically grounded voice behaviours such as focus and inverse systems As the first comprehensive study of voice systems and voice typology this book makes a significant contribution to current research in linguistics and grammatical theory
