Speech Analysis:

Speech Analysis, Synthesis and Perception James L. Flanagan, 2013-06-29 This book has its origin in a letter In November of 1959 the late Prof Dr WERNER MEYER EpPLER wrote to me asking if I would contribute to a series he was planning on Communication His book Grundlagen und Anwendungen der Informationstheorie was to serve as the initial volume of the series After protracted consideration I agreed to undertake the job provided it could be done outside my regular duties at the Bell Telephone Laboratories Shortly afterwards I received additional responsibilities in my research organization and felt that I could not conveniently pursue the manuscript Consequently except for the preparation of a detailed outline the writing was delayed for about a year and a half In the interim Professor MEYER EpPLER suffered a fatal illness and Professors H WOLTER and W D KEIDEL assumed the editorial responsibilities for the book series The main body of this material was therefore written as a leisure time project in the years 1962 and 1963 The complete draft of the manuscript was duplicated and circulated to colleagues in three parts during 1963 Valuable comments and criticisms were obtained revisions made and the manuscript submitted to the publisher in March of 1964 The mechanics of printing have filled the remaining time If the reader finds merit in the work it will be owing in great measure to the people with whom I have had the good fortune to be associated

New Spectral Methods for Analysis of Source/filter Characteristics of Speech Signals Baris Bozkurt, Similar, 2006 This study proposes a new spectral representation called the Zeros of Z Transform ZZT which is an all zero representation of the z transform of the signal In addition new chirp group delay processing techniques are developed for analysis of resonances of a signal The combination of the ZZT representation with the chirp group delay processing algorithms provides a useful domain to study resonance characteristics of source and filter components of speech Using the two representations effective algorithms are developed for source tract decomposition of speech glottal flow parameter estimation formant tracking and feature extraction for speech recognition The ZZT representation is mainly important for theoretical studies Studying the ZZT of a signal is essential to be able to develop effective chirp group delay processing methods Therefore first the ZZT representation of the source filter model of speech is studied for providing a theoretical background We confirm through ZZT representation that anti causality of the glottal flow signal introduces mixed phase characteristics in speech signals The ZZT of windowed speech signals is also studied since windowing cannot be avoided in practical signal processing algorithms and the effect of windowing on ZZT representation is drastic We show that separate patterns exist in ZZT representations of windowed speech signals for the glottal flow and the vocal tract contributions A decomposition method for source tract separation is developed based on these patterns in ZZT We define chirp group delay as group delay calculated on a circle other than the unit circle in z plane The need to compute group delay on a circle other than the unit circle comes from the fact that group delay spectra are often very noisy and cannot be easily processed for formant tracking purposes the reasons are explained through ZZT representation In this thesis we propose methods to avoid such problems by modifying the ZFT of a signal and further computing the chirp group delay spectrum New algorithms based on processing of the chirp group delay spectrum are developed for formant tracking and feature estimation for speech recognition The proposed algorithms are compared to state of the art techniques Equivalent or higher efficiency is obtained for all proposed algorithms The theoretical parts of the thesis further discuss a mixed phase model for speech and phase processing problems in detail Index Terms spectral representation source filter separation glottal flow estimation formant tracking zeros of z transform group delay processing phase processing
