Stranded In Las Vegas:

Stranded in Las Vegas Daniel Kienbaum, Myrtle Spear, 2003-02 When all of his belongings except a duffel bag are stolen from him in a bus station Daniel Kienbaum spent eight harrowing months just trying to keep body and soul together as he struggled to find a way home Alternately being blessed by good fortune such as when he is offered a job in a laundromat and being pushed around by fate such as when his roommate takes advantage of a sudden windfall Kienbaum spares no sensibilities with his sometimes painful honesty and always emotional narrative

Places Lost and Found Ronald Koury, 2021-05-10 The Hudson Review has always had an international focus Travel and reports from abroad have figured prominently in the journal including essays on exotic and picturesque locales as well as accounts from war torn areas and the experiences of exiles Many of these are pilgrimages others are harrowing memoirs What unites even the most devastating of these accounts are intellectual curiosity and a spirit of adventure Places Lost and Found is a treasury of distinctive and compelling essays selected from six decades of the Hudson Review From a description of the gardens of Kyoto and a portrait of Syria just before its civil war to reflections on Veblen and the Mall of America these essays explore an array of places that are deeply layered with history and meaning The stunning cover photo of the Semper Opera House in Dresden encapsulates many of the themes of the book war and its aftermath the importance of the built environment in any discussion of place the endurance of civilization and resilience and of course the romance of travel
