The Place:

This Is the Place Margot Kahn, 2017-11-14 A thought provoking collection of personal essays about home What makes a home What do equality safety and politics have to do with it And why is it so important to us to feel like we belong In this collection 30 women writers explore the theme in personal essays about neighbors marriage kids sentimental objects homelessness domestic violence solitude immigration gentrification geography and more Contributors including Amanda Petrusich Naomi Jackson Jane Wong and Jennifer Finney Boylan lend a diverse range of voices to this subject that remains at the core of our national conversations Engaging insightful and full of hope This is the Place will make you laugh cry and think hard about home wherever you may find it This collection encompassing a spectrum of races ethnicities religions sexualities political beliefs and classes could not be timelier open this book hear its chorus of voices and remember that we are a nation of individuals bound to each other by our humanity The New York Times Book Review an honest portrait of the U S pieced together like an imperfect American quilt We need more books like this BUST

The Place of God in Piers Plowman and Medieval Art Mary Clemente Davlin, 2017-03-02 Probing spatial questions about God posed by Piers Plowman the author of this interdisciplinary study turns to pictorial evidence the use of religious space and relationships within such space in English art of the same period The Place of God in Piers Plowman and Medieval Art is not only a study of the sense of God and of the relationship between God and creatures in the great religious poem but also an analysis of art works of the high Middle Ages especially English manuscript illuminations in their placement of God Such interdisciplinary analysis historicizes both literature and art uncovering ways that medieval people imagined God and the understandings that they would have been able to bring to reading and viewing religious art

Places That Matter Dr. Joan Ferrante, 2018-07-24 Places that Matter asks the reader to identify a place that matters in their life their home a place of worship a park or some other site that acts as an emotional and physical anchor and connects them to a neighborhood Then readers are asked In what ways do I currently support or fail to support that neighborhood Should support be increased If so in what ways Joan Ferrante guides students through a learning experience that engages qualitative and quantitative research and culminates in writing a meaningful plan of action or research brief Students are introduced to basic concepts of research and are exposed to the experiences of gathering and drawing on data related to something immediate and personal The class tested exercises are perfect for courses that emphasize action based research and social responsibility The book s overarching goal is to help students assess their neighborhood s needs and strengths and then create a concrete plan that supports that neighborhood and promotes its prosperity Accompanying the book is a facilitator s companion website to guide action based research experiences which includes rubrics that are aligned to common learning objectives and are also designed to make tracking and reporting easier
