Framing Civic Engagement, Political Participation and Active Citizenship in Europe Cristiano Bee, Roberta Guerrina, 2017-12-22 This book evaluates the role that civic engagement political participation and active citizenship can play in promoting the establishment of a European polity The chapters included here examine how the practice of active citizenship is managed and constructed in the context of a European drive to increase civic engagement and political participation in three member states Portugal Italy and the UK and one accession country Turkey Looking at both processes and policies promoting active citizenship at the European and national levels this book uncovers current discourses as well as political priorities and values that surround the activities of non governmental organizations NGOs Of particular interest are debates about the nature and level of civic and political participation and engagement of marginal groups women youths migrants and minorities as they are particularly vulnerable to social exclusion The book focuses on the interaction between institutions and civil society actors addressing a number of questions related to their reciprocal role in influencing shaping criticising or disregarding certain political priorities This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Civil Society Mobilizing for Active Citizenship Leivina V. Cariño,2005 Participation, Marginalization and Welfare Services Aila-Leena Matthies,Lars Uggerhøj,2016-05-13 Current debates around participation and marginalization dominate the agenda of many European political forums There is an increasing concern about the stability of social cohesion and a growing number of particular groups of people who are regarded as being at risk of being socially excluded or marginalized This volume goes beyond the surface of public discussions to look at the central role played by welfare services in European societies in either strengthening or hindering participatory citizenship and democracy In current discussions welfare services understood in a broad sense are centrally positioned there are high expectations that welfare services can hinder marginalization and enable participation Yet marginalization is in most cases rooted in the deeper structures of society with economy participation and involvement dependent on political or highly personal factors which are beyond the scope of welfare services This groundbreaking volume posits that participation and marginalization are twin concepts expressing opposing sides of one and the same processes faced by individuals and communities It will be essential reading for social workers sociologists and policy makers throughout Europe Young People and Active Citizenship in Post-Soviet Times Beata Krzywosz-Rynkiewicz,Anna Zalewska,Kerry J. Kennedy,2017-08-10 Situated within the context of post soviet times this book explores young people s citizenship activities and values in three distinct environments post soviet union countries post soviet union satellites and countries that were independent of the soviet union Its purpose is to investigate the influence of these contexts on the ways young people see their citizenship in what are now emerging democracies The future of nations depends to a large extent on whether citizens will continue to support existing values and will engage in activities to support those values Using a framework designed by Kennedy 2006 and further developed by Zalewska Krzywosz Rynkiewicz 2011 the study examined the citizenship values of 3794 students aged 11 14 18 from 11 European countries The main themes of this book include exploring similarities and differences in citizenship activities within countries and across countries advancing explanations for these similarities and differences highlighting the importance of contexts that influence citizenship activities and values and assessing the extent to which democratic values are reflected in young people's citizenship activities
