Managing Uncertainty in Crisis Xiaoli Lu, 2017-11-07 This book studies the variety of organizational strategies selected to cope with critical uncertainties during crises This research formulates and applies an institutional sense making model to explain the selection of strategies for coping with uncertainties during crises to answer the question why some organizations select a rule based strategy to cope with uncertainties whereas others pursue a more ad hoc based strategy It finds that the level of institutionalization does not affect strategy selection in the initial phase of responding to crises that three rigidity effects can be identified in the selection of sense making strategies once organizations have faced the failure of their selected strategies that discontinuities in the feedback loop of sense making do not necessarily move organizations to switch their sense making strategies but interact with institutionalization to contribute to switching sense making strategies This book bridges the gap between institutional thinking and crisis management theorizing A major step forward in the world of crisis management studies Professor Arjen Boin Leiden University the Netherlands In a world of increasingly complex sociotechnical systems interacting in high risk environments Professor Lu s analysis of how organizations manage uncertainty is both timely and profound Professor Louise K Comfort Director Center for Disaster Management University of Pittsburgh USA Prof Lu greatly enhances our understanding of how organizations cope with uncertainty and make sense of their challenges under the pressures of catastrophe Dr Arnold M Howitt Faculty Co Director Program on Crisis Leadership Harvard Kennedy School USA This book provides not only a theory of crisis management but also a key concept around which research and practice can be conducted Professor Naim Kapucu Director of School of Public Administration University of Central Florida USA A generic institutional model for analyzing and managing hazards disasters and crises worldwide Professor Joop Koppenjan Erasmus University Rotterdam the Netherlands This book has done an excellent job in opening the black box of how organizations make sense of the crisis situations they face and develop strategies to respond It should be read by all of us who wish for a peaceful and safe world Professor Lan Xue Dean of School of Public Policy and Management Tsinghua University China

Raymond Saner,2000-08-23 Success in negotiation is not a matter of chance but the result of careful planning and specialized skills Some of these skills are inborn others need to be learnt In this book the psychologist and economist Dr Raymond Saner draws on his long years of experience as a negotiation trainer and university lecturer to show that two thirds of negotiation practice is learnable Yet very few people are specifically trained in this everyday task Without sacrificing scientific accuracy Dr Saner offers a highly readable and fascinating guide to the subject In so doing he does not limit himself to the over simplified tips generally put out on successful bargaining in every imaginable situation Rather he treats the different aspects of negotiation practice in a way that is useful to the both academics and practitioners such that the general laws and principles gradually become evident as and of themselves The aim of this approach is to reveal the essence of negotiation through the experience of both the author and the reader Such an understanding of the processes involved in negotiation is of far greater practical value than a mere collection of recipes with no discussion of the underlying theory while the most comprehensive treatment of the theory without reference to its application in practice would be only half the story Thus the text is supplemented by a series of illustrative examples and case studies from the business and political arenas plus some seventy figures and tables With all this the author has paid considerable attention to writing a text that is both entertaining to read and rigorous in content This work was originally published in German The New Appeal Socialist Classics ,1916
