Strikes Bombs Bullets:

Carrier Strike Eric Hammel,2020-12-21 CARRIER STRIKE The Battle of the Santa Cruz Islands October 1942 By Eric Hammel The Battle of the Santa Cruz Islands a strategic naval action in the bitter Guadalcanal Campaign was history's fourth carrier versus carrier naval battle Though technically a Japanese victory the battle proved to be the Empire of Japan's last serious attempt to win the Pacific War by means of an all out carrier confrontation Only one other carrier battle occurred in the Pacific War in June 1944 in the Philippine Sea By then however the U S Navy's Fast Carrier Task Force was operational and Japan's dwindling fleet of carriers was outnumbered and completely outclassed Though hundreds of Japanese naval aviators perished in the great Marianas Turkey Shoot of June 19 20 1944 it was during the first four carrier battles in the six month period from early May through late October 1942 that the fate of Japan's small elite naval air arm was sealed It was at Coral Sea in May that Japan's juggernaut across the Pacific was blunted It was at Midway in June that Japan's great carrier fleet was cut down to manageable size And it was at Eastern Solomons in August and Santa Cruz in October that Japan's last best carrier air groups were ground to dust After their technical victory at Santa Cruz the Japanese withdrew their carriers from the South Pacific and were never able to use them again as a strategically decisive weapon Of the four Japanese aircraft carriers that participated in the Santa Cruz battle only one survived the war Following Santa Cruz and the subsequent series of air and surface engagements known as the Naval Battle of Guadalcanal the Imperial Navy's Combined Fleet never again attempted a meaningful strategic showdown with the U S Pacific Fleet Though several subsequent surface actions in the Solomons were clearly Japanese victories their results were short lived After November 1942 Japan could not again muster the staying power or the willpower to wage a strategic war with her navy Once the veteran carrier air groups had been shredded at Eastern Solomons and Santa Cruz Japanese carriers ceased to be a strategic weapon The Santa Cruz clash was deemed a Japanese victory because U S naval forces withdrew from the battlefield That is how victory and defeat are strictly determined But on the broader strategic level the U S Navy won at Santa Cruz because it was able to achieve its strategic goal of holding the line and buying time Japan was unable to achieve her strategic goal of defeating the U S Pacific Fleet in a final decisive all or nothing battle The technical victory cost Japan any serious hope she had of winning the Pacific naval war The victory at Santa Cruz cost Japan her last best hope to win the war in the Pacific Once again author historian Eric Hammel brings to the reading public an exciting narrative filled with the latest information and written in the edge of the seat style that his readers have enjoyed for nearly two decades in nearly thirty acclaimed military history books As was the case with its companion volume Carrier Clash this new book is based upon American and Japanese battle reports and the recollections of many airmen and seamen who took part Infantry Journal ,1930 Strikes, bombs & bullets Jules Archer,1972 By Bullet, Bomb, and Dagger Richard Suskind,1971 Israel Yearbook on Human Rights, Volume 52 (2022) Yoram Dinstein,2022-09-19 The Israel Yearbook on Human Rights an annual published under the auspices of the
