Facing Global

Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czeslaw Mesjasz, Heinz Krümmenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth Assessment Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world

Climate Change as a Reason for Asylum. A just Claim? , 2020-11-25 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Politics Other International Politics Topics grade 1 5 University of Rostock language English abstract The verdict of the UN Human Rights Committee poses the issue of a potential entitlement to asylum for humans experiencing climate induced displacement Thus this thesis is gonna examine this rather new topic of the political science the future forced migration in the context of climate change and its consequences for the receiving countries and their legal systems. Consequently for one thing in this thesis it will be tried to point out the causal correlation of climate change and migration and moreover on this basis tried to undertake reflections regarding a potential need for reformation of national and international refugee and asylum law in order to protect the affected people. Since justice is highly important for social cooperation and also currently being tested by not only the global resource scarcity and its resulting conflicts but also as shall be shown with this thesis by the that very human induced climate change the focus of this work shall not be put on the potential implementation of climate refugees into the law of nations but rather on the more philosophical question of justification regarding a potential asylum for the prospective victims of climate change. The leading question of this examination is thus gonna be if the claim to asylum due to the persecution through human induced climate change is a just claim or just a claim. Because the abstract term of justice and its concepts which vary depending on the author could fill a thesis on its own this work will use the specific theory of justice of political philosopher John Rawls and thus will in pursuit of the main goal to concretely judge the obligation of states towards climate refugees on basis of an abstract justice term outline his theory of justice as fairness.

The Single Tax Review ,1916 Single Tax Review ,1916 Land and Freedom Joseph Dana Miller,1916 Problems of Economics ,1973 Beginning Nov 1959 consists of selected articles from various Soviet publications The Year Book of General Medicine ,1907 General Medicine ,1907 A Green and Permanent Land Randal S. Beeman,James A. Pritchard,2001 Once patronized primarily by the counterculture and the health food establishment the organic food industry today is a multi billion dollar business driven by ever growing consumer demand for safe food and greater public awareness of ecological issues Assumed by many to be a recent phenomenon that industry owes much to agricultural innovations that go back to the Dust Bowl era This book explores the roots and branches of alternative agricultural ideas in twentieth century America showing how ecological thought has challenged and changed agricultural theory practice and policy from the 1930s to the present It introduces us to the people and institutions who forged alternatives to industrialized agriculture through a deep concern for the enduring fertility of the soil a passionate commitment to human health and a strong advocacy of economic justice for farmers Randal Beeman and James Pritchard show that agricultural issues were central to the rise of the environmental movement in the United States As family farms failed during the Depression a new kind of agriculture was championed based on the holistic approach taught by the emerging science of ecology Ecology influenced the permanent agriculture movement that advocated such radical concepts as long term land use planning comprehensive soil conservation and organic farming Then in the 1970s sustainable agriculture combined many of these ideas with new concerns about misguided technology and an over consumptive culture to preach a more sensible approach to farming In chronicling the overlooked history of alternative agriculture A Green and Permanent Land records the significant contributions of individuals like Rex Tugwell Hugh Bennett Louis Bromfield Edward Faulkner Russell and Kate Lord Scott and Helen Nearing Robert Rodale Wes Jackson and groups like Friends of the Land and the Practical Farmers of Iowa And by demonstrating how agriculture also remains central to the public interest especially in the face of climatic crises genetically altered crops and questionable uses of pesticides this book puts these issues in historical perspective and offers readers considerable food for thought
