The vision of the Grand Gallery with the wooden fixed caisson in place: neither the impactor nor the entry of the inclined well can be seen. Because of the fixed caisson of the Gallery, both the nose of Horus and his mouth are missing: only the "Eyes of Horus" are visible.

The most important things about the Eyes of Horus are the missing mouth and nose: the entry of the well and Horus himself, as the impactor. "Egyptians believed that the "Eye of Horus" and the "Eye of Ra" traversed the sky when he, Horus as a falcon, flew across it." The metaphor is about the Hauling beetles, descending the Grand Gallery of the Pyramid, when at the same time, the impactor was hauled up. Horus himself, the falcon who flew across the left and right Eyes (the eastern and western half-Hauling Beetles)... is that impactor.

with this lot but the twelfth dorsal vertebra to which they belong was attached to the lower half. Imagine the trouble he must have taken to do that and without cutting or hacking the bones about either. It is extraordinary. This is rather interesting by the way. Handle it carefully. He picked up the breast bone daintily for it was covered with wet mud and handed it to me with the remark: That is the most definite piece of evidence we have. You mean I said that the union of the two parts into a single mass fixes this as the skeleton of an
