Self Worth & Self Love

www.Engdic.org

Mirror, mirror on the wall,
Whose the fairest of them all?
You say not me, but I disagree,
For my worth is something you can't see.

I'm not just a face, not just a style,
I'm laughter, tears, I'm versatile.
The stories I've lived, the people I've met,
Make me someone you'll never forget.

So, mirror, thanks but no thanks for your view,
My worth is something you never knew.
It's carved from life, from love, from pain,
Something a glass could never explain.

Foreword by Austin Warren* Howard Blake,1973     The island self Howard Blake,Robert Kent,1973     Hugh MacDiarmid, the Poetry of Self John Baglow,1987 Christopher Grieve writing under the name of Hugh MacDiarmid was a major modern poet and founder of the Scottish literary Renaissance In this study of his poetry John Baglow eliminates what has been a stumbling block for most MacDiarmid scholars by showing the very real thematic and psychological consistency which underlines MacDiarmid s work He demonstrates the extent to which the work was dominated by a desire to find a faith that could justify his desire to write poetry a desire continually thwarted by a critical intellect which destroyed whatever faith he was able to construct This constant search without a successful conclusion is at the heart of the work of many major modernist writers MacDiarmid s poetry can be seen as embracing this tradition and making it explicit     The Island Nicholas Jenkins,2024-06-11 Nicholas Jenkins explores war love and politics in the early works of W H Auden one of the twentieth century s most controversial and moving poets Auden s poems embraced both haunted meditations on World War I and lyrical visions of English national identity until in the mid 1930s he lost faith in the artistic potential of such myths     Poetry and Islands Rajeev S. Patke,2018-03-01 In all cultures and times the poetic imagination has fed on the natural attributes of islands An island is either a destination or a home or a place of exile and imprisonment or simply a place to sojourn It is an ideal vehicle for journeys treated as allegories or for acts of finding that turn into acts of losing or the reverse transformation An island is not a continent yet it can be an archipelago An island is both a place in itself and a pretext for imaginings that need a local habitation and a name It can give relief and pleasure or it can frustrate isolate and negate Above all it both invites and resists or contains or constrains the imagination Poetry and Islands explores how islands become repositories of human longings and desires a locus for some of our deepest fears and fantasies It balances historical and geographical reference with a selective approach to poems and poets in English and in translations into English The study of particular poems in which islands figure in exemplary ways is balanced by a more detailed discussion of the poets who have played a major role in shaping human responses to islands on a global scale     Island Whispers Sharon Dorival,2025-09-17 Join Sharon Dorival on a journey through the lush landscapes and vibrant culture of Dominica as she explores the complexities of love relationships and self discovery This evocative collection of poems weaves together themes of nature spirituality and personal growth inviting readers to immerse themselves in the beauty and magic of the island With sensitivity and nuance Dorival s words capture the essence of the human experience from the thrill of forbidden love to the comfort of friendship and community Her poetry is a testament to the transformative power of nature love and self reflection Island Whispers is a must read for anyone who has ever been touched by the beauty of the Caribbean or who has ever sought solace in the wisdom of poetry Let Dorival s words transport you to a world of
