Mimesis, Genres and Post-Colonial Discourse J. Durix,1998-08-17

Through a broad ranging survey of the allegory utopia the historical novel and the epic in post colonial literature Jean Pierre Durix proposes a critical reassessment of the theory of genres He argues that in the New Literatures which are often rooted in hybrid aesthetics the often decried mimesis must be viewed from a completely different angle Analysing texts by Gabriel Garc a M rquez Salman Rushdie Alejo Carpentier Wilson Harris and Edouard Glissant he pleads for the redefinition of magic realism if the term is to retain generic relevance

The Ideology of Genre Thomas O. Beebee,2010-11 In a series of comparative essays on a range of texts embracing both high and popular culture from the early modern era to the contemporary period The Ideology of Genre counters both formalists and advocates of the if genres exist on the other hand then they exist not as essences but as differences and thus those places within and between texts where genres collide reveal the connections between generic status interpretive strategy ideology and the use value of language

Theories of Literary Genre Joseph Strelka,1978 The problem of literary genre and the theories dealing with it concern some of the most central and significant questions of literary criticism as well as of literary history It is not only one of the oldest but also one of the most genuinely literary principles of order in literary studies There seems however to be little agreement on how to use the concept of genre to create such order Indeed the concept of genre itself has been repeatedly questioned by recent criticism This book contains a comparative cross section of essays that offer different opinions and viewpoints on theories of literary genre Rather than dealing with the detailed problems inherent in various concepts of specific historical kinds of literature elegy hymn ode the chapters are concerned with basic general categories such as poetry and fiction They examine the possibilities and limitations of their usefulness as well as the theories underlying their history and structure An attempt is made to inform

Pier Pasolini's trilogy of life is a series of film adaptations of major texts of the past The Decameron The Canterbury Tales and One Thousand and One Nights The movies demonstrate a film author's acute aesthetic sensibility through a highly original cinematic rendering of the sources The first two films closely examined in this book offer a personal purposefully stylized vision of the Middle Ages as though Pasolini were dreaming Boccaccio's and Chaucer's texts through the filter of his heretic consciousness The unusual poetic visualization of the source works which could be described as irreverent cinematic homage has the potential to renew the traditional reading of such literature This book shows how cinema becomes an alternative form of storytelling It first studies the two films in detail putting them in perspective within the trilogy Next it interprets them recounting misinterpretations and expounding upon Pasolini's ideological perception and defends the oft criticized adaptations Finally it discusses how the films represent innovation over strict adaptation Appendices offer charts with information on the narrative structures of the films and the correspondences between them Poetics of the Text British Neo-Formalist Circle, 1992 Histoire et théorie de la musique de l'antiquité François Auguste Gevaert, 1875 Histoire et Théorie de la Musique de l'Antiquité, 1875 Séminaire de Théorie Des Nombres, Paris, 1982 Études D'économie Sociale (théorie de la Répartition de la Richesse Sociale) Léon Walras, 1896 Théorie des nombres: Le second degré binaire. 1924 Eugène Cahen, 1924 Annual Report of the Indiana Horticultural Society Indiana Horticultural Society, 1922 Problèmes des genres littéraires, 1987
