Theres Gold In My Backyard:

The New Critical Thinking Jack Lyons, Barry Ward, 2024-05-21 This book aims to improve real world critical thinking. Traditional critical thinking texts neglect two crucial facts. First, as psychologists have shown, many of our mistakes are caused not by faulty formal reasoning but because we bypass it in favor of intuitive, often unreliable, heuristics. Second, good critical thinking requires not only the proper assessment of inference but also of our premises; the evaluation of information sources is of fundamental importance, especially in this internet era of fake news and politicized science. This highly innovative text is psychologically informed both in its diagnosis of inferential errors and in teaching students how to watch out for and circumnavigate their natural intellectual blind spots. It also incorporates insights from epistemology and philosophy of science to formulate best practices for assessing information sources on the internet and other media. The result is a practical, hands-on primer for real world critical thinking. The authors bring more than five combined decades of classroom experience to the subject, covering the usual core topics of deductive, inductive, causal, and probabilistic inference, argument identification, reconstruction, and diagramming, while also extending the text's scope to include testimony, the nature and credibility of science, rhetoric, and dialectical argumentation. The Second Edition further develops and refines these innovations, combining in-depth discussion of fake news and conspiracy theories with exercises and projects designed to teach broadly applicable source assessment skills. There is also a more nuanced, positive account of science that emphasizes its continuity with commonsense causal reasoning. For instructors, there are additional online resources, notably banks of exam questions with solutions and various class projects.

Key Features: Uses contemporary psychological explanations and remedies for pervasive errors in belief formation. No other critical thinking text generally applies this psychological approach. Rigorously addresses the evaluation of premises based on testimony, in particular the testimony of internet sources. Carefully explains the concept of validity, paying particular attention to distinguishing logical possibility from other species of possibility. Uses frequency trees as a simple and reliable alternative to more complicated Bayesian methods. Uses arguments maps which improve students' reasoning and argument evaluation.

Key Updates to the Second Edition: Expanded discussion of the psychology of reasoning and belief, including treatment of motivated reasoning. Uses a conventional truth table based approach to propositional logic while incorporating a more intuitive, psychologically informed approach to the logic of conditionals. New Summary Boxes: Enhanced treatment of testimony with an expanded discussion of fake news, conspiracy theories, and the application of general epistemic principles to navigate the extremes of gullibility and unmotivated skepticism. New exercises that emphasize practical, hands-on source assessment skills. An improved discussion of the nature of science, emphasizing the central role of causal inference and the multi-generational, cumulative character of scientific knowledge. A new Index of Arguments summarizing the most common argument forms and associated defeaters for the inductive forms. New online content including exams and additional questions plus solutions suitable for upload to course.

The Altenberg 16 Suzan Mazur, 2010. A new theory of evolution begins to emerge in the pages of The Altenberg 16: An Expos of the Evolution Industry. Written by Suzan Mazur, a print and television journalist whose reports have appeared in the Financial Times, The Economist, Archaeology, Omni, and many other publications, the book is a front-row seat to the thinking of the great evolutionary science minds of our time about the need to reformulate the neo-Darwinian theory of evolution. We hear from world-renowned scientists such as Richard Lewontin, Lynn Margulis, Niles Eldredge, Richard Dawkins, the evo devo revolutionaries, NASA astrobiologists, and others. The book grew out of a story Mazur broke online in March 2008 titled Altenberg: The Woodstock of Evolution about the now famous meeting at Konrad Lorenz Institute in Altenberg, Austria, in July 2008, where 16 scientists discussed expanding evolutionary thinking beyond outdated hypotheses. MIT will publish the proceedings in April 2010. Science magazine noted that Mazur's reporting reverberated throughout the evolutionary biology community. Mazur says she was punished for getting out in front of the story and banned from the symposium but realized the story was bigger than Altenberg, which covered events beginning 500 million years ago and spoke to scientists who were not invited, including those investigating pre-biotic evolution. She came to the conclusion that evolutionary science suffers because many in the scientific establishment refuse to acknowledge that the old science has served its purpose and there is disagreement about what the new evolution paradigm is. She thinks the dam is now breaking because the public, who funds science, has become a party to the discourse via the Internet and seeks answers to fundamental questions about evolution that scientists so far can't definitively answer.
