The Law Times Reports of Cases Decided in the House of Lords, the Privy Council, the Court of Appeal ... [new Series], 1909 The Law Times Reports, 1909 William Pereira James Steele, 2002 In his time William Pereira was the epitome of the public image of an architect a rugged individualist as well as a generalist who defined rather than mimicked emerging social values He designed every building type imaginable from houses to hospitals as well as inventing some of his own such as the Television Studios for CBS in Los Angeles For the expansion of Los Angeles International Airport he convinced the authorities to adapt the facility to jet planes before jet travel was commonplace he was a visionary whose wide ranging interests and pragmatism surfaced at a time when a growing nation most needed those qualities A long overdue tribute to William Pereiras talent and influence this book features in depth behind the scenes views of his best known projects captured in the stunning photography of Julius Shulman and Wayne Thom Features on CBS The USC master plan UC Irvine The Doha master plan the Transamerica Tower in San Francisco and the Los Angeles International Airport characterize the spectacular scope of his career This first complete chronology of his work is a telling record of his vast achievements Irvine Ellen Baker Bell, Irvine Historical Society, 2011 The story of Irvine goes back more than 200 years to a time when it was a vast sprawling ranch extending from the brush covered foothills of the Santa Ana Mountains to the dramatic bluffs of the Pacific coast Since that time the Irvine Ranch has experienced a revolutionary change from pastoral wide open spaces to one of the most successful planned communities in the nation All along the way there were people whose vision shaped the transformation of Irvine Among them were the members of the Irvine family who for nearly a century were stewards of a ranch that amounted to more than one fifth of modern day Orange County The Irvine of today owes its success to the ideals from its past the determination to develop the immense potential of the land while still preserving its natural beauty
