The Erotics Of Instruction:

The Erotics of Instruction Regina Barreca, Deborah Denenholz Morse, 1997 A lively exploration of the manifestations of passion desire in the teacher student relationship

The Erotics of Instruction Regina Barreca, Deborah Denenholz Morse, 1997 The Dictionary of Canadian Biography is the definitive biographical reference work in Canadian history No serious student of Canada s past can function without access to this thorough balanced and reliable source R Hall Globe and Mail

Jane Austen's Erotic Advice Sarah Raff, 2014-02 Raff traces Austen s increasingly libidinal narrative presence while simultaneously offering analysis of her biography that connects prose and life

The Erotics of Materialism Jessie Hock, 2021-01-15 In The Erotics of Materialism Jessie Hock maps the intersection of poetry and natural philosophy in the early modern reception of Lucretius and his De rerum natura Subtly revising an ancient atomist tradition that condemned poetry as frivolous Lucretius asserted a central role for verse in the practice of natural philosophy and gave the figurative realm a powerful claim on the real by maintaining that mental and poetic images have material substance and a presence beyond the mind or page Attending to Lucretius s own emphasis on poetry Hock shows that early modern readers and writers were alert to the fact that Lucretian materialism entails a theory of the imagination and ultimately a poetics which they were quick to absorb and adapt to their own uses Focusing on the work of Pierre de Ronsard Remy Belleau John Donne Lucy Hutchinson and Margaret Cavendish The Erotics of Materialism demonstrates how these poets drew on Lucretius to explore poetry s power to act in the world Hock argues that even as classical atomist ideas contributed to the rise of empirical scientific methodologies that downgraded the capacity of the human imagination to explain material phenomena Lucretian poetics came to stand for a poetry that gives the imagination a purchase on the real from the practice of natural philosophy to that of politics In her reading of Lucretian influence Hock reveals how early modern poets were invested in what Lucretius posits as the materiality of fantasy and his expression of it in a language of desire sex and love For early modern poets Lucretian eroticism was poetic method and De rerum natura a treatise on the poetic imagination initiating an atomist genealogy at the heart of the lyric tradition

Sensing Violence Will McMorran, 2025-09-24 What does reading fictional violence do to us as readers To find out this provocative and original book turns to the works of an author synonymous with sexual violence the Marquis de Sade Drawing on psychology cognitive literary studies and empirical research it argues that reading is a fundamentally embodied act and one that implicates us far more than we might like to think in fictional depictions of violence This book turns not just to Sade for answers but to his readers Where previous studies have focussed either on Sade s language or his philosophy this one places the lived experience of actual readers at the heart of its investigations Taking particular scenes from Sade s fiction from a young girl posing as a statue in Eug nie de Franval to the brutal rape of the heroine of Justine this book explores what happens not just on the page but in the minds and bodies of readers as they bring these scenes to life Drawing on questionnaires completed by readers of those scenes and on his own experience as a reader teacher and translator of Sade the author challenges the disembodied approach that has dominated Sade studies and literary criticism more broadly over recent decades This is not just a book about Sade it s a radical exploration of what happens to us when we are confronted with scenes of violence Urgent accessible and personal it offers a new model for understanding reading as a matter of making sensations as well as making sense Erotics of instruction :

Jane Austen and the generalizing novel Sarah Raff,2004 Didactic Literature in the Roman World T. H. M.

Gellar-Goad,Christopher B. Polt,2023-08-21 This book collects new work on Latin didactic poetry and prose in the late Republic and early Empire and it evaluates the varied shifting roles that literature of teaching and learning played during this period Instruction was of special interest in the culture and literature of the late Roman Republic and the Age of Augustus as attitudes towards education found complex fluid and multivalent expressions The era saw a didactic boom a cottage industry whose surviving authors include Vergil Lucretius Ovid Horace Cicero Varro Germanicus and Grattius who are all reexamined here The contributors to this volume bring fresh approaches to the study of educational literature from the end of the Roman Republic and early Empire and their essays discover unexpected connections between familiar authors Chapters explore interrogate and revise some aspect of our understanding of these generic and modal boundaries while considering understudied points of contact between art and education poetry and prose and literature and philosophy among others Altogether the volume shows how lively experimental and intertextual the didactic ethos of this period is and how deeply it engages with social political and philosophical questions that are of critical importance to contemporary Rome and of enduring interest into the modern world Didactic Literature in the Roman World is of interest to students and scholars of Latin literature particularly the late Republic and early Empire and of Classics more broadly In addition the volume s focus on didactic poetry and prose appeals to those working on literature outside of Classics and on intellectual history

Michigan Law Review ,1998 Greek and Latin Love Thea S. Thorsen,Iris Brecke,Stephen Harrison,2021-09-07 It is often claimed that the kind of love that is variously deemed romantic or true did not exist in antiquity Yet ancient literature abounds with stories that seem to adhere precisely to this kind of love This volume focuses on such literature and the concepts of love it espouses The volume differs from and challenges much existing classical scholarship which has traditionally privileged the theme of sex over love and prose genres over those of poetry By conversely focusing on love and poetry the present volume freshly explores central poets in ancient literature such Homer Sappho Terence Catullus Virgil Horace and Ovid alongside less canonized such as the anonymous poet of The Lament for Bion Philodemus and Sulpicia The chapters which are written by world leading as well as younger scholars reveal that Greek and Latin concepts of love seem interconnected that such love is as relevant for hetero as homoerotic couples and that such ideas of love follow the mainstream of poetry throughout antiquity In addition to the general reader interested in the history of love this volume is relevant for students and scholars of the ancient world and the poetic tradition NWSA Journal ,2000 Theater of a

City Jean Elizabeth Howard, 2007 Arguing that the commercial stage depended on the unprecedented demographic growth and commercial vibrancy of London to fuel its own development Jean E Howard posits a particular synergy between the early modern stage and the city in which it flourished In London comedy place functions as the material arena in which social relations are regulated urban problems negotiated and city space rendered socially intelligible Rather than simply describing London the stage participated in interpreting it and giving it social meaning Each chapter of this book focuses on a particular place within the city the Royal Exchange the Counters London's warehouses and its academies of manners and examines the theater's role in creating distinctive narratives about each In these stories specific locations are transformed into venues defined by particular kinds of interactions whether between citizen and alien debtor and creditor prostitute and client or dancing master and country gentleman Collectively they suggest how city space could be used and by whom and they make place the arena for addressing pressing urban problems demographic change and the influx of foreigners and strangers into the city new ways of making money and losing it changing gender roles within the metropolis and the rise of a distinctive town culture in the West End Drawing on a wide range of familiar and little studied plays from four decades of a defining era of theater history Theater of a City shows how the stage imaginatively shaped and responded to the changing face of early modern London

New Approaches to the Literary Art of Anne Brontë Julie Nash, Barbara A. Suess, Barbara Ann Suess, 2001 Twelve scholarly essays discuss the literary art of Anne Bronte from a variety of theoretical and critical approaches Topics include for example the metaphor of eating in Agnes Grey the use of the Bible as an undergirding narrative structure in The Tenant of Wildfell Hall class representations in Agnes Grey and Bronte's feminist critique of Victorian society Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Dialogue, 1998 Feminist Periodicals, 1999 The Erotics of Passage James S. Williams, 1997 A complete account of the fiction films and media work of Marguerite Duras since the film Le camion 1977 Williams pursues a variety of theoretical approaches psychoanalytic comparative rhetorical intertextual emphasizing in each case the formal pleasures of Duras's work

Pedagogical Desire Jan Jagodzinski, 2002-06-30 What is the right pedagogical distance for learning to take place What should be the teacher's role concerning a student's desire Ethically speaking how are we to understand the dialectic between desire and the drive Are we obligated to help students mourn the knowledge that they must let go Can ignorance which sounds pejorative be pedagogically useful as that which is unsaid and repressed When the pedagogical distance collapses and seduction takes place can such behavior be excused These are just some of the questions that are raised throughout this collection by the authors Lacanian psychoanalysis presents a challenge to our usual understanding of the subject as formulated by ego psychology as well as the discursive subject of postmodernism Can Lacan's tripartite psychic registers of the Real Imaginary and the Symbolic present the subject in unending intrapsychic conflict Can pedagogy address this struggle How do we as educators take the notion of the unconscious seriously into account The authors of this collection engage themselves in such questioning in some cases examining their own practices and in other cases developing possible strategies with a view of understanding the psychic life of teaching The Origins of Latin Love-elegy Archibald A. Day,1938 Walter Pater Laurel Brake,Lesley Hall Higgins,Carolyn Williams,2002 Available for the first time in the United States a new series of innovative critical studies introducing writers and their contexts to a wide range of readers Drawing upon the most recent thinking in English studies each book considers biographical material examines recent criticism includes a detailed bibliography and offers a concise but challenging reappraisal of a writer s major work Published in the U K by Northcote House in association with The British Council
