Peter Brown

There Is No Choosing:

Already Awake Nathan Gill,2004-09-01 Nathan Gill is a rare voice in contemporary spirituality Speaking with consistent clarity he points out that all prescriptions for escape from the drama of separation instead serve as its reinforcement Compiled from transcripts of one to one dialogues and group meetings the talks featured in Already Awake present the essential message of non duality in a profound yet straightforward way Also included by way of an introduction to the main text is a revised version of Nathan s first book Clarity

Dirty Enlightenment Peter Brown,2013-06-26 Dirty Enlightenment is a stripped down radical presentation of the Nature of Reality and your spiritual place in it In actuality you are a miraculously present infinite field of transcendental being presenting itself to itself as subtle radiant energy of pure intelligence This truth is consonant with the view of Dzogchen Kashmir Shaivism Kundalini Yoga primal Buddhism and with all radical spiritual traditions Since this is already and eternally the sole condition the spiritual challenge is merely to recognize that this is the case With the simple recognition of the nature of your actual condition you are freed from the confused implications of any misinterpretations of what your condition is that you may have been laboring under The apparent imperfection that you may believe your life to be is in fact already and inherently an entirely transcendental miraculous eternal perfection and it can be easy to discover this fact with self verifying certainty

What is Mindfulness AQEEL AHMED,2022-09-28

The term mindfulness is a poor translation of the term awareness because it contains the term mind as the thinking reasoning faculty which has no bearing on awareness In the days of the historical Buddha many references to mind were to awareness not the thinking mind The Buddha is credited for saying for example that all things are made of mind He meant that all that exists is awareness Hence the term mindfulness arose to refer to awareness which is not any activity of the mind as thought intention motivation choice and volition The old Buddhist texts suggest that mindfulness can be developed as if though awareness the fact that we exist is not by itself adequate for enlightenment to be freed from all suffering Whereas all that is actually developed is the ability to distinguish between thoughts and awareness recognition For example You think you live in certain circumstances Circumstances are an example of a set of thoughts that are confused with awareness reality Your circumstances are an interpretation of your reality awareness All interpretations are no other and no more than thoughts When your circumstances disappear it means you have seen through a set of thoughts that you formerly confused for reality Then there is only here now beyond all circumstances Now since no circumstances exist you cannot suffer from your circumstances This growth of insight flowing from the increasing capacity to recognize thoughts as only thoughts not facts comprises a loss of everything you know By losing so many useless ideas over so many years of quietly sitting without seeking you arrive at not knowing And so you can't say what truth is You have merely acquired the capacity to identify and drop falsehood Then you cannot say what mindfulness is bearing in mind that the fairly accurate term awareness is just another thought You then only know that choice is thought To choose mentally therefore demonstrates confusion because you are choosing your thoughts and beliefs over awareness reality To choose reality you must desist totally from all choice realizing there is no choice There aren't different realities to choose from There is only one reality whatever you are experiencing right now There is no choice here So you must simply learn to recognize that to choose one thought over another one feeling over another is a mistake To arrive at this absolute freedom from all choice all you need is awareness of yourself as subject When you bring attention back to you to see what you are going to do with your current challenging thoughts and feelings you will notice you don't know what to do with them Therefore not knowing what to do you don't do anything This is awareness mental inaction There is no choosing here only the experiencing of whatever happens to be
