The Flying Classroom:

The Flying Classroom Erich Kästner, 2015-03-10 Martin's school is no ordinary school. There are snowball fights, kidnappings, cakes, a parachute jump, a mysterious man called No Smoking who lives in a railway carriage, and a play about a flying classroom. As the Christmas holidays draw near, Martin and his friends, nervous Uli, cynical Sebastian, Johnny, who was rescued by a sea captain, and Matthias, who is always hungry, particularly after a meal, are preparing for the end of term festivities. But there are surprises, sadness, and trouble on the way, and a secret that changes everything. The Flying Classroom is a magical, thrilling, and bittersweet story about friendship, fun, and being brave when you are at your most scared. It also features a calf called Eduard, but you will have to read it to find out why.

The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE. This book tells the story of German language literature on film, beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture. It explores, analyzes, and contextualizes the so-called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s, the impact of sound on adaptation practices, the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers, and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany. In New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century. Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century, many of German cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts, popular plays, and even children's literature. Not being restricted to German adaptations, however, this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions, which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events. It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations by materialist conditions, liberal economies, and capitalist imperatives, political agendas, the mobility of individuals, and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art.

Commercial cinema's adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship
