Traditional Values For Today's Woman:

Lives Together/Worlds Apart Suzanna Danuta Walters, 2023-11-15 In the 1940s film Now Voyager Bette Davis plays a daughter struggling against her mother's stifling repression. Nearly fifty years later in the Hollywood saga Postcards from the Edge Shirley MacLaine as a neglectful and bossy mother inflicts untold psychological pain on her daughter played by Meryl Streep. These dramas of conflict and the ambivalent struggle for separation have been central to popular images of mothers and daughters in the last half century in the U.S. Walters boldly challenges these dichotomies and proposes an innovative and multilayered understanding of the cultural construction of the mother-daughter relationship. In a discussion of popular media ranging from themes of maternal martyrdom to maternal malevolence, Walters shows that since World War II mainstream culture has generally represented the mother-daughter relationship as one of never-ending conflict and thus promoted an ideology of separation as necessary to the daughter's emancipation and maturity. This ideological move is placed in a social context of the anti-woman backlash of the early post-war period and the renewed anti-feminism of the Reagan and Bush years. Walters uses exceptions to mainstream imagery: films such as A Tree Grows in Brooklyn, television shows like Maude, novels like The Joy Luck Club to offer evidence of alternative traditions and paradigms. Timely and vividly argued, Lives Together/Worlds Apart makes a brilliant contribution to discussions of popular culture and feminism.

In the 1940s film Now Voyager Bette Davis plays a daughter struggling against her mother's stifling repression. Nearly fifty years later in the Hollywood saga Postcards from the Edge Shirley MacLaine as a neglectful and bossy mother in The Ladies' Home Journal Edward William Bok, 1984 Twist of Fate Linda Randall Wisdom, 2002-05-25 Waitress Allie Walker dreamed of a life of grandeur but she never imagined she'd switch bodies with heiress Brianne Sinclair. When Allie awakes as Brianne, there's a dead fiancé at her feet and the smoking gun in her hand. Only P.I. Pete Hackett believes her innocence. As Allie, she had a crush on Pete. As Brianne, she's made him fall in love with her. But who does he really love? June A Critical Discourse Analysis of South Asian Women's Magazines Linda McLoughlin, 2017-07-03 This intriguing book applies Critical Discourse Analysis to a range of South Asian women's lifestyle magazines, exposing the disconnection between the magazines' representations of South Asian women and the lived realities of the target audience. The author challenges the notion that discourses of freedom and choice employed by women's magazines are emancipatory, demonstrating instead that the version of feminism on offer is a commodified form which accords with the commercial aims of the publications. McLoughlin demonstrates that whilst British magazines present women in the East as the exotic and culturally superior Other, women in India are encouraged to emulate Western women to signify their engagement with globalization and modernity. She uses data from focus groups carried out in both countries to illustrate the interpretive frameworks and multivocality of participants' attitudes, experiences, and beliefs. This thought-provoking book will appeal to students and researchers of Language and Linguistics, Women's Studies, Anthropology, Sociology, Media Communications, and Cultural Studies Feminism/Femininity in Chinese Literature
