The View from Coyaba Peter Abrahams, 1985-01 A Jamaican family descended from escaped slaves is involved in the histories of both Africa and Jamaica The Coyaba Chronicles Peter Abrahams, 2000 By the time these chronicles are made public we will I suspect be into the twenty first century I did not expect to live this long These are among the first words of the memoirs from Peter Abrahams novelist and writer born in Vrededorp South Africa in 1919 Best Known for such classic novels as Mine Boy 1946 and Tell Freedom 1954 both still in print Abrahams draws on a wealth of experience and the uniquely authoritative perspective that comes from having lived for almost the entire twentieth century and across three continents to reflect on the black experience in the last century The Coyaba Chronicles Reflections on the Black Experience in the Twentieth Century is both a personal memoir and a powerful meditation on what W E B Dubois defined at the beginning of the century as the problem of the colour line of the relations between the lighter and darker races of man Using Dubois as a point of departure Abrahams writes passionately about the inherent wrongness of racial hatred and contemplates such timeless questions as Why was colour the most crucial issue of our century When will we get over the deep psychic and emotional damage done by the racial experience This is one of the major themes of the memoir that of the quest for an integrated identity a challenge that faces people of colour in both first and third world countries The Coyaba Chronicles is also the personal journey of Peter Abrahams It is the odyssey of a young South African who worked for a time as a seaman in order to leave his homeland for wartime Britain and post war France to become a writer it is the story of his personal relationships with the Black literati of the day and his involvement in the pan Africanist movement of the 1950s which allows for his fascinating personal pen portraits of men like W E B Dubois Julius Nyerere Kwame Nkrumah Richard Wright and Langston Hughes It is how the journey takes him to the Caribbean island of Jamaica where he and his wife Daphne and their three children find sanctuary from racial divisiveness at Coyaba Finally it is about the author s lifelong companionship with Daphne and how their multi racial union reflects a symbolic one bloodedness mirroring Abrahams s own admirable sensibilities

White Scholars/African American Texts Lisa A. Long, 2005 Funny painful and disturbing by turns this absolutely necessary volume powerfully engages readers in passionate debates about the place of the non African American teacher of African American literature Maureen Reddy coeditor of Race in the College Classroom Pedagogy and Politics What makes someone an authority What makes one person s knowledge more credible than another s In the ongoing debates over racial authenticity some attest that we can know each other s experiences simply because we are all human while others assume a more skeptical stance insisting that racial differences create unbridgeable gaps in knowledge Bringing new perspectives to these perennial questions the essays in this collection explore the many difficulties created by the fact that white scholars greatly outnumber black scholars in the study and teaching of African American literature Contributors including some of the most prominent theorists in the field as well as younger scholars examine who is speaking what is being spoken and what is not and why framing African American literature in terms of an exclusive black white racial divide is problematic and limiting In highlighting the whiteness of some African Americanists the collection does not imply that the teaching or understanding of black literature by white scholars is definitively impossible Indeed such work is not only possible but imperative Instead the essays aim to open a much needed public conversation about the real and pressing challenges that white scholars face in this type of work as well as the implications of how these challenges are met

Foundational African Writers Bhekizizwe Peterson, Jill Bradbury, Hugo Canham, Innocentia J Mhlambi, Victoria J Collis-Buthelezi, Sikhumbuzo Mngadi, Simon Gikandi, Thando Njovane, Anne-Maria Makhulu, Obi Nwakanma, Athambile Masola, James Ogude, Christopher EW Ouma, Stéphane Robolin, Crain Soudien, Tina Steiner, Thuto Thipe, Andrea Thorpe, 2022-06 The essays in this collection were crafted in celebration of the centenaries in 2019 of Peter Abrahams Noni Jabavu Sibusiso Cyril Lincoln Nyembezi and Es kia Mphahlele all of whom were born in 1919 All four centenaries lived rich and diverse lives across several continents In the years following the Second World War they produced more than half a century of foundational creative writing and literary criticism and made stellar contributions to institutions and repertoires of African and black arts and letters in South Africa and internationally The range of the centenaries imaginations critical analyses and social interventions spanned disciplinary divides This volume in the same spirit draws on approaches that are equally transdisciplinary Two aims thread through the contributors reflections on the complexities of black existence and of intellectual and cultural life in the twentieth century The first is the exploration of some of the centenaries key texts and cultural projects that shaped their legacies In doing so the volume contributors trace a number of divergent intellectual and aesthetic lineages in their works and organisational activities The second aim is a consideration of the ways in which these foundational writers legacies continue to resonate today confirming their status as crucial contributors to modern African and diasporic black arts and letters

Cultural Entanglements Shane Graham, 2020-05-12 In addition to being a poet fiction writer playwright and essayist Langston Hughes was also a globe trotting cosmopolitan travel writer translator avid international networker and perhaps above all pan Africanist In Cultural Entanglements Shane Graham examines Hughes s associations with a number of black writers from the Caribbean and Africa exploring the implications of recognizing these multiple facets of the African American literary icon and of taking a truly transnational approach to his life work and influence Graham isolates and maps Hughes s cluster of black Atlantic relations and interprets their significance Moving chronologically through Hughes s career from the 1920s to the 1960s he spotlights Jamaican poet and novelist Claude McKay Haitian novelist and poet Jacques Roumain French Negritude author Aim C saire of Martinique South African writers Es kia Mphahlele and Peter Abrahams and Caribbean American novelist Paule Marshall Taken collectively these writers intellectual relationships with Hughes and with one another reveal a complex conversation and sometimes a heated debate happening globally throughout the twentieth century over what Africa signified and what it meant to be black in the modern world

Graham makes a truly original contribution not only to the study of Langston Hughes and African and Caribbean literatures but also to contemporary debates about cosmopolitanism the black Atlantic and transnational cultures The Black Experience in the 20th Century Peter Abrahams,2000 The Black Experience in the 20th Century is also the personal journey of Peter Abrahams It is the odyssey of a young South African who worked for a time as a seaman in order to leave his homeland for wartime Britain and post war France to become a writer it is the story of his personal relationships with the Black literati of the day and his involvement in the pan Africanist movement of the 1950s which allows for his fascinating personal pen portraits of men like George Padmore W E B Dubois Julius Nyerere Kwame Nkrumah Richard Wright and Langston Hughes It is how the journey takes him to the Caribbean island of Jamaica where he and his wife Daphne and their three children find sanctuary from racial divisiveness at Coyaba Finally it is about the author s lifelong companionship with Daphne and how their multiracial union reflects a symbolic one bloodedness mirroring Abrahams own admirable sensibilities
