Vinyl Cations:

Vinyl Cations Peter Stang, 2012-12-02 Vinyl Cations provides a comprehensive and detailed treatment of the reactive intermediate in which the electron deficient carbon is an integral part of a unsaturation This book emphasizes that the reaction through vinyl cations is a viable pathway among the multitude of mechanistic routes for vinylic substitution The aryl ethynyl and allenyl cations from the viewpoint of direct solvolytic generation from appropriate allenyl precursors are briefly discussed Other topics include the preparative aspects of electrophilic additions to alkynes participation of allenyl bonds in solvolyses and vinyl cations generated through diazonium ions The nature of the cationic intermediates migrations across the double bond thiirenium ions and species related to vinyl cations are likewise elaborated This publication is beneficial to chemists and researchers concerned with vinyl cations Vinyl Cations in Friedel-Crafts Type Reactions Jason

Meeting, American Chemical Society, 1975 Reactive Intermediates R.A. Abramovitch, 1983 The field of reactive intermediates has been blossoming at a rapid rate in recent years and its impact on chemistry both pure and applied as well as on biology astronomy and other areas of science is enormous Several books have been published which cover the area one edited by McManus surveys the subject in general at the senior undergraduate or beginning graduate level In addition a number of monographs have appeared which deal with individual topics such as carbenes nitrenes free radicals carbanions carbenium ions and so on in great depth Our objective is somewhat different We hope that these Advances in type of volumes will appear at irregular intervals of a year to 18 months each We intend to publish up to date reviews in relatively new areas of the chemistry of reactive intermediates These will be written by world authorities in the field each one of whom will give the reader a current in depth review of all aspects of the chemistry of each of these species It is our plan that the subjects to be reviewed will cover not only organic chemistry but also inorganic physical bio industrial and atmospheric chemistry The volumes themselves we hope will end up being reasonably interdisciplinary though this need not and probably will not be the case for the individual reviews
