Performance Art in the Second Public Sphere Katalin Cseh-Varga,Adam Czirak,2018-02-01 Performance Art in the Second Public Sphere is the first interdisciplinary analysis of performance art in East Central and Southeast Europe under socialist rule By investigating the specifics of event based art forms in these regions each chapter explores the particular critical roles that this work assumed under censorial circumstances The artistic networks of Yugoslavia Hungary Latvia Lithuania Poland Romania East Germany and Czechoslovakia are discussed with a particular focus on the discourses that shaped artistic practice at the time drawing on the methods of Performance Studies and Media Studies as well as more familiar reference points from art history and area studies

The Image of Man in Selected Plays of August Wilson Shamal Abu-Baker Hussein,2012 Wilson s approach can be seen as a communal romanticism dealing with ordinary people language and problems giving the priority to the feeling and human dignity over logic power and money putting freedom and equity as a pivotal concern almost presenting women and children as victims and highlighting the importance of heritage identity and culture As his self revision message all those three plays demonstrate scenes of black self review showing the blacks part of responsibility in the situation they live in It is a project of self rehabilitation for the blacks Since American society is a multicultural spectrum there is not any certain legibly ascribed American identity That is why Wilson does not submit to the claims of the dominant cultural trend by some white critics like Brustein Wilson confidently presents the blacks identity typified with self fulfilment and contribution to the American culture as his alternative contributory image of man against the white dominant models or the violent black ones
