New Lives of the Saints Rod Giblett, 2019-11-13 Presented here for the first time and for meditation and emulation are the words and work of many environmental apostles The words and work of each apostle are designed to delight and inspire the reader to begin or continue to lead a life of environmental action for conservation and contemplation of nature for spiritual succor in the age of climate change All the usual suspects are here such as St Francis Rachel Carson Aldo Leopold John Muir Henry David Thoreau and Judith Wright but New Lives of the Saints emphasizes some aspects of their words and work often ignored or overlooked such as Thoreau on swamps and Leopold on marshes Also included are some unusual and unexpected environmental apostles such as Walter Benjamin Raymond Williams Seamus Heaney and Paul Virilio all of whom contributed to green thinking as this book shows Other environmentally apostolic writers such as Walt Whitman Sidney Lanier Lord Dunsany H P Lovecraft Felix Guattari and Kelly Barnhill are also discussed Beginning with two environmentally and animal friendly retellings of the legends of St George and St Margaret involving dragons the book goes on to devote a chapter each to ten other environmental apostles as patron saints of a special type of environment or of an approach to environmental conservation and contemplation These saints sing the song of the earth including its swamps marshes bogs fens national parks mountains forests oceans seas airs rivers reefs trees cities peoples places plants animals and so on They provide nurture for living a life of hope and symbiotic livelihood living sacrally with the earth New Lives of the Saints crosses the great divide between fiction and non fiction and mixes the genres of story and essay It is a ground breaking work of environmental counter theology for the symbiocene the hoped for age superseding the Anthropocene

Courting Dissolution Michael Lent, 2016-12-15 Michael Lent asks what role art has in colonisation and subsequent dissolution He proposes a practice informed by the fatal strategies and raw phenomenology of Jean Baudrillard as a challenge to a system of disappearance Focusing on the otherness of space to prevent its ultimate dissolution Lent promotes a spatial practice of radical alterity Examining ideas of disappearance put forth by Baudrillard and Paul Virilio he utilises art as a means for investigating loss of potentiality and experience through the representation of space shifting their ideas originally ascribed to objects into a new emphasis This book ultimately attempts to break a cyclical system that causes everything to disappear into representation and equivalency

Sublime Communication Technologies Rod

Giblett,2008-01-17 This lively new study is a critical cultural history of communication technologies from railways and telegraphy to computers and the Internet in which Rod Giblett argues that these technologies play a pivotal role in the cultural history of modernity and its project of the sublime

Space Peter Merriman,2022-02-09 Space is the first accessible text which provides a comprehensive examination of approaches that have crossed between such diverse fields as philosophy physics architecture sociology anthropology and geography The text examines the influence of geometry arithmetic natural philosophy empiricism and positivism to the development of spatial thinking as well as focusing on the contributions of phenomenologists existentialists psychologists Marxists and post structuralists to how we occupy live structure and perform spaces and practices of spacing The book emphasises the multiple and partial construction of spaces through the embodied practices of diverse subjects highlighting the contributions of feminists queer theorists anthropologists sociologists and post colonial scholars to academic debates In contrast to contemporary studies which draw a clear line between scientific and particularly quantitative approaches to space and spatiality and more lived human enactments and performances this book highlights the continual influence of different mathematical and philosophical understandings of space and spatiality on everyday western spatial imaginations and registers in the twenty first century Space is possibly the key concept underpinning research in geography as well as being of central importance to scholars and practitioners working across the arts humanities social sciences and physical sciences

The Virtual Window Anne Friedberg,2009-02-13 From the Renaissance idea of the painting as an open window to the nested windows and multiple images on today s cinema television and computer screens a cultural history of the metaphoric literal and virtual window As we spend more and more of our time staring at the screens of movies televisions computers and handheld devices windows full of moving images texts and icons how the world is framed has become as important as what is in the frame In The Virtual Window Anne Friedberg examines the window as metaphor as architectural component and as an opening to the dematerialized reality we see on the screen In De pictura 1435 Leon Battista Alberti famously instructed painters to consider the frame of the painting as an open window Taking Alberti s metaphor as her starting point Friedberg tracks shifts in the perspectival paradigm as she gives us histories of the architectural window developments in glass and transparency and the emerging apparatuses of photography cinema television and digital imaging Single point perspective Alberti s metaphorical window has long been challenged by modern painting modern architecture and moving image technologies And yet notes Friedberg for most of the twentieth century the dominant form of the moving image was a single image in a single frame The fractured modernism exemplified by cubist painting for example remained largely confined to experimental avant garde work On the computer screen however where multiple windows coexist and overlap perspective may have met its end In this wide ranging book Friedberg considers such topics as the framed view of the camera obscura Le Corbusier s mandates for the architectural window Eisenstein s opinions on the shape of the movie screen and the multiple images and nested windows commonly displayed on screens

today The Virtual Window proposes a new logic of visibility framed and virtual an architecture not only of space but of time

Paul Virilio Reader Steve Redhead, 2019-08-07 This Reader collects together for the first time extracts of Virilio s work from the entire range of his career Virilio has produced important theory at the speed of light that can uncannily illuminate the impact of new information and communications technologies in a world which collapses time and distance as never before

Killer Apps Jeremy Packer, Joshua Reeves, 2020-02-28 In Killer Apps Jeremy Packer and Joshua Reeves provide a detailed account of the rise of automation in warfare showing how media systems are central to building weapons systems with artificial intelligence in order to more efficiently select and eliminate military targets Drawing on the insights of a wide range of political and media theorists Packer and Reeves develop a new theory for understanding how the intersection of media and military strategy drives today s AI arms race They address the use of media to search for enemies in their analyses of the history of automated radar systems the search for extraterrestrial life and the development of military climate science which treats the changing earth as an enemy As the authors demonstrate contemporary military strategy demands perfect communication in an evolving battlespace that is increasingly inhospitable to human frailties necessitating humans replacement by advanced robotics machine intelligence and media systems

Sociological Bulletin Indian Sociological Society, 2003      The Information Bomb Paul Virilio, 2000 Paul Virilio explores the dominion of techno science cyberwar and the new information technologies      Realism After Modernism Devin Fore, 2012 The human figure made a spectacular return in visual art and literature in the 1920s Following modernism s withdrawal nonobjective painting gave way to realistic depictions of the body and experimental literary techniques were abandoned for novels with powerfully individuated characters But the celebrated return of the human in the interwar years was not as straightforward as it may seem In Realism after Modernism Devin Fore challenges the widely accepted view that this period represented a return to traditional realist representation and its humanist postulates Interwar realism he argues did not reinstate its nineteenth century predecessor but invoked realism as a strategy of mimicry that anticipates postmodernist pastiche Through close readings of a series of works by German artists and writers of the period Fore investigates five artistic devices that were central to interwar realism He analyzes Bauhaus polymath L szl Moholy Nagy s use of linear perspective three industrial novels riven by the conflict between the temporality of capital and that of labor Brecht s socialist realist plays which explore new dramaturgical principles for depicting a collective subject a memoir by Carl Einstein that oscillates between recollection and self erasure and the idiom of physiognomy in the photomontages of John Heartfield Fore s readings reveal that each of these rehumanized works in fact calls into question the very categories of the human upon which realist figuration is based Paradoxically even as the human seemed to make a triumphal return in the culture of the interwar period the definition of the human and the integrity of the body were becoming more tenuous than ever before Interwar realism did not hearken back to earlier artistic modes but posited new and unfamiliar syntaxes of aesthetic encounter revealing the emergence of a human subject quite unlike anything that had come before      Trauma, Postmodernism and the Aftermath of World War II Paul Crosthwaite, 2009-01-29 The radical postmodernist waves of experimentation that swept Anglo American fiction from the late 1960s constitute a delayed response to the upheavals of the Second World War yet the legacy of the war barely figures in prevalent accounts of the postmodernist movement As Paul Crosthwaite shows in this provocative book to recognize the significance of the war in contemporary culture is to acknowledge that postmodernism as a sensibility aesthetic style and mode of thought must be entirely reconceived Challenging dominant theorizations of the postmodern as depthless and dehistoricized Crosthwaite demonstrates that postmodernism has not abandoned history but has rather reformulated it in terms of trauma trauma that is traceable time and again to the catastrophes of the 1940s The book stages a revealing confrontation between influential theories of trauma and postmodernism and offers innovative close readings of key texts by Virginia Woolf Thomas Pynchon Michael Moorcock J G Ballard Richard Powers and Ian McEwan      Indivisible Fanny Howe, 2000 This odd transcendent and triumphant novel published in 2000 completes a quasi autobiographical radically philosophical series of fictions Howe began with First Marriage published in 1972 Like Howe Henny s life spans the tempestuous multi racial world of hipsters and activists in working class Boston during the 60s and its subsequent fall out On the verge of religious conversion Henny the book s narrator locks her husband McCool in a closet so that she might talk better to God Then she proceeds to make peace with the dead by telling their stories Lewis Henny s true love is a wheelchair bound black activist and political journalist whose working class mother is jailed when the group s cache of explosives is found in her home Then there s their wealthy friend Libby who crosses the globe in search of enlightenment and spiritual peace Guiding these characters on their journey are figures as divergent as Nietzsche and Bambi Marx and St John of the Cross As Christopher Martin writes in Rain Taxi Henny s function as a narrator is to hoist the entire structure of the novel onto her brittle uneven shoulders and deliver all the embarrassing facts directly to us her reader God only then do we realize the full breadth and beauty of the narrative Howe has surreptitiously constructed all along Fanny Howe is the author of several works of fiction most recently Economics from Flood Editions and collections of poems including One Crossed Out and Gone She is the winner of the 2000 Lenore Marshall Award for her Selected Poems Her first collection of essays The Wedding Dress was published by UC Press in the Fall of 2003 She lives in Massachusetts but remains Professor Emeritus at UCSD in the Department of Literature

Polysexuality
Francois Peraldi,1981 Mixing documents interviews fiction theory poetry psychiatry and anthropology Polysexuality became the encyclopedia sexualis of a continent that is still emerging Originally conceived as a special Semiotext e issue on homosexuality at the end of the 70s Polysexuality quickly evolved into a more complex and iconoclastic project whose intent was to do away with recognized genders altogether considered far too limitative The project landed somewhere between humor anarchy science fiction utopia and apocalypse In the few years that it took to put it together it also evolved from a joyous schizo concept to a darker neo Lacanian elaboration on the impossibility of sexuality The tension between the two occasionally perceptible is the theoretical subtext of the issue Upping the ante on gender distinctions Polysexuality started by blowing wide open all sexual classifications inventing unheard of categories regrouping singular features into often original configurations like Corporate Sex Alimentary Sex Soft or Violent Sex Discursive Sex Self Sex Animal Sex Child Sex Morbid Sex or Sex of the Gaze Mixing documents interviews fiction theory poetry psychiatry and anthropology Polysexuality became the encyclopedia sexualis of a continent that is still emerging What it displayed in all its forms could be called broadly speaking the Sexuality of Capital Actually the issue being rather hot it was decided to cool it off somewhat by only using capitals throughout the issue It was also the first issue for which we used the computer The Polysexuality issue was attacked in Congress for its alleged advocacy of animal sex Includes work by Alain Robbe Grillet Felix Guattari Paul Verlaine William S Burroughs Georges Bataille Pierre Klossowski Roland Barthes Paul Virilio Peter Lamborn Wilson and more

Tales of the Great American Victory Diederik Oostdijk,Markha G. Valenta,2006 Exploring topics such as poetry politics and cultures of war this collection of 16 essays tells alternative contradictory and complicated stories about World War II demonstrating that the United States was not always a champion of liberty and justice as some would like the general public to believe Paul Virilio John Armitage, 2000-05-24 Paul Virilio is one of the most significant and stimulating French cultural theorists writing today Increasingly hailed as the archaeologist of the future Virilio is noted for his proclamation that the logic of ever increasing acceleration lies at the heart of the organization and transformation of the contemporary world The first book to afford a properly critical evaluation of Virilio s cultural theory it includes an interview with Virilio a recently translated example of his work and a select bibliography of his writings The commissioned contributions by leading cultural and social theorists examine Virilio s work from his early speculations on military and urban space to his current writings on dromology politics new communications technologies disappearance and the fallout from the information bomb Current Biography Yearbook ,2005 The aim of Current Biography Yearbook is to provide reference librarians students and researchers with objective accurate and well documented biographical articles about living leaders in all fields of human accomplishment Whenever feasible obituary notices appear for persons whose biographies have been published in Current Biography Publisher
