Virtual Combat:

    The Virtual Combat Air Staff Arthur F. Huber,1996 This study investigated the nature of the future combat air staff in the context of air war in the information age and how application of information age technology could reduce deployment of personnel while maintaining or improving staff support to the air campaign through the use of virtuality Within the confines of this study virtuality refers to the concept that not all elements of a staff may be physically located in the same place that communication technology may allow for the retrieval of information resources from diverse centers of responsibility and that staff assets may be reabsorbed into host centers after the cessation of hostilities The results of this research indicate that the rapid advances now progressing within the technological realm as well as within organizational theory and practice presage a different paradigm for the future combat air staff This report should be of interest to the Air Force other services and commands that are seeking ways to reduce physical forward combat area presence while maintaining combat effectiveness   Virtual Weaponry Aaron Tucker,2017-10-26 This book examines the convergent paths of the Internet and the American military interweaving a history of the militarized Internet with analysis of a number of popular Hollywood movies in order to track how the introduction of the Internet into the war film has changed the genre and how the movies often function as one part of the larger Military Industrial Media Entertainment Network and the Total War Machine The book catalogues and analyzes representations of a militarized Internet in popular Hollywood cinema arguing that such illustrations of digitally networked technologies promotes an unhealthy transhumanism that weaponizes the relationships between the biological and technological aspects of that audience while also hierarchically placing the human components at the top Such filmmaking and movie watching should be replaced with a critical posthumanism that challenges the relationships between the audience and their technologies in addition to providing critical tools that can be applied to understanding and potentially resist modern warfare   Virtual, Augmented and Mixed Reality: Designing and Developing Augmented and Virtual Environments Randall Shumaker,2013-06-12 Here is the first of a two volume set LNCS 8021 and 8022 that constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th International Conference on Virtual Augmented and Mixed Reality VAMR 2013 held as part of the 15th International Conference on Human Computer Interaction HCII 2013 held in Las Vegas USA in July 2013 jointly with 12 other thematically similar conferences The total of 1666 papers and 303 posters presented at the HCII 2013 conferences was carefully reviewed and selected from 5210 submissions These papers address the latest research and development efforts and highlight the human aspects of design and use of computing systems The papers accepted for presentation thoroughly cover the entire field of human computer interaction addressing major advances in knowledge and effective use of computers in a variety of application areas The total of 88 contributions included in the VAMR proceedings were carefully reviewed and selected for inclusion in this two volume set The papers included in this volume are organized in the following topical sections developing augmented and virtual environments interaction in augmented and
