Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission,1962 Management in Networks J. A. de Bruijn,2008 Getting what you want even if you are the boss isn t always easy Almost every organization big or small works among a network of competing interests Whether it s governments pushing through policies companies trying to increase profits or even families deciding where to move house rarely can decisions be made in isolation from competing interests both within the organization and outside it In this accessible and straightforward account Hans de Bruijn and Ernst ten Heuvelhof cast light on multi stakeholder decision making Shunning simplistic model talk they reveal the nuts and bolts of decision making within the numerous dilemmas and tensions at work Using a diverse range of illustrative examples throughout their perceptive analysis examines how different interests can either support or block change and the strategies available in managing a variety of stakeholders This insightful text provides both depth of understanding and a wealth of advice It is invaluable reading to students working in business and management public administration and organizational studies plus practitioners or actors operating in a range of contexts
