Rhetoric and Composition As Intellectual Work Gary A.

Olson,2002 In response to those who insist that rhetoric and composition should remain only a service discipline editor Gary A Olson s Rhetoric and Composition as Intellectual Work demonstrates that it already is an intellectual discipline that for at least a quarter of a century the field has developed an impressive tradition of intellectual work in a remarkable assortment of subject areas Rhetoric and Composition as Intellectual Work suggests the diversity of intellectual projects that have and will continue to make rhetoric and composition more than a service to the university more than a field devoted solely to improving writing pedagogy and more than a preliminary to literary studies This collection of nineteen essays by some of the most distinguished scholars in the discipline illustrates that rhetoric and composition has much to contribute to the intellectual milieu of the contemporary university as the field continues to push its disciplinary borders and discover new sites of investigation Publisher s description

Teaching Academic Writing as a Discipline-Specific Skill in Higher Education Ezza, El-Sadig Y.,Drid, Touria,2019-12-27 It is now held that writing influences and is influenced by the discipline where it occurs The representations that writers employ to produce and comprehend texts are said to be sensitive to the specificities of their disciplinary discourse communities This exposes writers to divergent disciplinary demands and expectations on what counts as good and appropriate writing in terms of generic structure discourse features and stylistic preferences reflecting dissimilar practices Because of such exigencies academic writing seems at times to be very challenging especially for novice scholars Thus any attempt to perceive the function of academic writing in higher education or to evaluate its quality should not discard the shaping force of the disciplines Teaching Academic Writing as a Discipline Specific Skill in Higher Education is a critical scholarly resource that examines the role of writing within academic circles and the disciplinary practices of writing in scholastic environments The book will also explore the particular difficulties that confront writers in the disciplines as well as the endeavors of educational institutions to develop discipline specific writing traditions among practicing and novice scholars Featuring a range of topics such as blended learning data interpretation and knowledge construction this book is essential for instructors academicians administrators professors researchers and students

David Foster, 2017-10-03 Despite the increasingly global implications of conversations about writing and learning U S composition studies has devoted little attention to cross national perspectives on student writing and its roles in wider cultural contexts Caught up in our own concerns about how U S students make the transition as writers from secondary school to postsecondary education we often overlook the fact that students around the world are undergoing the same evolution How do the students in China England France Germany Kenya or South Africa the educational systems represented in this collection write their way into the communities of their chosen disciplines How for instance do students whose mother tongue is not the language of instruction cope with the demands of academic and discipline specific writing And in what ways is U S students development as academic writers similar to or different from that of students in other countries With this collection editors David Foster and David R Russell broaden the discussion about the role of writing in various educational systems and cultures Students development as academic writers raises issues of student authorship and agency as well as larger issues of educational access institutional power relations system goals and students roles in society The contributors to this collection discuss selected writing purposes and forms characteristic of a specific national education system describe students agency as writers and identify contextual factors social economic linguistic cultural that shape institutional responses to writing development In discussions that bookend these studies of different educational structures the editors compare U S postsecondary writing practices and pedagogies with those in other national systems and suggest new
