Soviet View Of Disarmament:

The Soviet View of Disarmament P.H. Vigor,1986-06-18 The Soviet View of Disarmament Peter Hast Vigor,1986

Perceived Images Daniel Frei,1986-06-28 Current thinking on arms control and disarmament has been dominated by the analysis of such objective factors as the number of weapons their characteristics technological developments and nuclear weapons deployment policies Yet arms control negotiations have had little success so far In this volume Daniel Frei asserts that while such objective analysis is indeed indispensable it needs to be supplemented by a careful document based description of Soviet and U S perceptions of one another and of the kind of assumptions that have thus far compelled their leaders to seek security in growing numbers of sophisticated weapons at ever increasing cost Lethal Frontiers Alekseï Georgievich Arbatov,1988-10-24 Lethal Frontiers is one of the first samples of Soviet scholarship on nuclear strategy readily available to Western readers A rising star in the Soviet foreign policy establishment Arbatov offers a remarkable view of the evaluation of U S nuclear policy and strategy This scholarly book is free of the ideological constraints and negative effects of excessive Soviet secrecy so often characterizing Soviet works on this subject The author begins by tracing the buildup of U S nuclear and conventional forces during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations and examines initial U S reactions to the achievement of strategic nuclear parity by the Soviet Union in the late 1960s and early 1970s From notions of flexible response to the Schlesinger doctrine and ideas of fighting a limited nuclear war Arbatov argues that the U S national security establishment has had enormous difficulty in reconciling itself with Soviet strategic parity Consequently U S strategy and arms programs have invariably collided with and contradicted the arms control process and efforts to decrease U S Soviet tensions In light of this and of the new Soviet approach to security Arbatov observes the challenges lying ahead in the new era of Soviet American relations Soviet Russia: Strategic Survey United States. Department of the Army,1963

Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs,1968 Hearings United States. Congress.

Assumptions and Perceptions in Disarmament Daniel Frei,United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research,1984 With correction slip Total Cold War Kenneth Alan Osgood,2006 Osgood focuses on major campaigns such as Atoms for Peace People to People and cultural exchange programs Drawing on recently declassified documents that record U S psychological operations in some three dozen countries he tells how U S propaganda agencies presented everyday life in America to the world its citizens living full happy lives in a classless society where economic bounty was shared by all Osgood further investigates the ways in which superpower disarmament negotiations were used as propaganda maneuvers in the battle for international public opinion He also reexamines the early years of the space race focusing especially on the challenge to American propagandists posed by the Soviet launch of Sputnik The Soviet Concept of Security Vladimir Fedorovich Petrovskii, United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research, 1985 The Soviet View of U.S. Strategic Doctrine Jonathan Samuel Lockwood, 1983-01-01 Soviet perceptions of American strategic doctrine have influenced then use of military power in foreign policy An understanding of how those perceptions are being derived at and of their specific contents is therefore essential to any reflection on direction that American defense policy should take Particularly in the field of arms control and disarmament Soviet perceptions carry severe implications for U S proposals as well as general behavior Lockwood bases his examination on Soviet sources such as newspapers periodicals radio broadcasts and books He establishes that Soviet analysts tend to project their own notions of clear strategy onto U S doctrine and intentions Starting from the premise that the Soviets mean what they say Lockwood is able to give a historical account of Soviet perceptions starting from massive retaliation up to and including Presidential Directive 59 In his final chapter the author gives possible policy strategies to successfully counteract the Soviet military policy Documents on Disarmament United States. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, 1966 Disarmament, Arms Control, Views from the United States and the Soviet Union.... , 1961 Khrushchev and the Arms Race Lincoln P. Bloomfield, Walter C. Clemens, Franklyn Griffiths, 1966 The Soviets in World Affairs Louis Fischer, 1930 Current History , 1928
