Infrastructural Brutalism Michael Truscello, 2020-09-01 How drowned town literature road movies energy landscape photography and death train narratives represent the brutality of industrial infrastructures In this book Michael Truscello looks at the industrial infrastructure not as an invisible system of connectivity and mobility that keeps capitalism humming in the background but as a manufactured miasma of despair toxicity and death Truscello terms this infrastructural brutality a formulation that not only alludes to the historical nexus of infrastructure and the concrete aesthetic of Brutalist architecture but also describes the ecological political and psychological brutality of industrial infrastructures Truscello explores the necropolitics of infrastructure how infrastructure determines who may live and who must die through the lens of artistic media He examines the white settler nostalgia of drowned town fiction written after the Tennessee Valley Authority flooded rural areas for hydroelectric projects argues that the road movie represents a struggle with liberal governmentality considers the ruins of oil capitalism as seen in photographic landscapes of postindustrial waste and offers an account of death train narratives ranging from the history of the Holocaust to postapocalyptic fiction Finally he calls for brisantic politics a culture of unmaking that is capable of slowing the advance of capitalist suicide Brisance refers to the shattering effect of an explosive but Truscello uses the term to signal a variety of practices for defeating infrastructural power Brisantic politics he warns would require a reorientation of radical politics toward infrastructure sabotage and cascading destruction in an interconnected world

Anarchism Benjamin Franks, Nathan Jun, Leonard Williams, 2018-03-14 Anarchism is by far the least broadly understood ideology and the least studied academically Though highly influential both historically and in terms of recent social movements anarchism is regularly dismissed Anarchism A Conceptual Approach is a welcome addition to this growing field which is widely debated but poorly understood Occupying a distinctive position in the study of anarchist ideology this volume authored by a handpicked group of established and rising scholars investigates how anarchists often seek to sharpen their message and struggle to determine what ideas and actions are central to their identity Moving beyond defining anarchism as simply an ideology or political theory this book examines the meanings of its key concepts which have been divided into three categories Core Adjacent and Peripheral concepts Each chapter focuses on one important concept shows how anarchists have understood the concept and highlights its relationships to other concepts Although anarchism is often thought of as a political topic the interdisciplinary nature of Anarchism A Conceptual Approach makes it of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences liberal arts and the humanities

After the Last Post Benjamin Zachariah, 2019-07-22 This book is about the production and consumption of history themes that have gained in importance since the discipline s attempts to disavow its own authority with the ascendancy of postmodern and postcolonial perspectives Several parallel themes crosscut the book s central focus on the discipline of history its intellectual history its historiography and its connection to memory particularly in relation to the need to establish the collective identity of nation community or state through a memorialisation process that has much to do with history or at least with claiming a historicity for collective memory None of this can be undertaken without an understanding of the roles that history writing and history reading have been made to perform in public debates or perhaps more accurately in public disputes The book addresses a discomfort with postcolonial theories in and as history Following are essays that examine the state of the discipline the art of reading and using archives practices of tracking the history of ideas and the themes of history memory and identity
