The Transformed Self Chana Ullman, 2013-06-29 This book is about the dramatic experience of religious conversion The phenomenon of religious conversion lies at the crossroad of several disciplines As the title of this book indicates my own interest in religious conversion is not sociological historical nor anthropological My primary interest is not even in the domain of the psychology of religion That is this book is not a comprehensive review of the social psychological factors that shape religious beliefs in general and religious conversions in particular Rather my primary interest is in the experience of conversion as an instance of a meaningful sudden change in the course of individual lives Religious conversion is examined in this book primarily from the point of view of the psychology of the self My aim is to elucidate the experience of religious conversion as a change in the self and to raise suggestions for the study of the self that derive from the data on religious conversion This interest dictated the scope as well as the methods of the present investigation Namely I have chosen to study individuals who have indeed changed visibly as a result of their conversion My inquiry was based on self report assuming the importance of the person s own point of view Finally my inquiry was semi clinical vii viii PREFACE based on the assumption of an underlying structure to the varieties of conversion experiences
