The Technology Trap:

The Technology Trap Carl Benedikt Frey, 2019-06-18 Made me look at the industrial revolution invention sleeping beauties contexts and the forces that shape our societies differently David Byrne New York Times Book Review How the history of technological revolutions can help us better understand economic and political polarization in the age of automation From the Industrial Revolution to the age of artificial intelligence The Technology Trap takes a sweeping look at the history of technological progress and how it has radically shifted the distribution of economic and political power among society's members As Carl Benedikt Frey shows the Industrial Revolution created unprecedented wealth and prosperity over the long run but the immediate consequences of mechanization were devastating for large swaths of the population Middle income jobs withered wages stagnated the labor share of income fell profits surged and economic inequality skyrocketed These trends Frey documents broadly mirror those in our current age of automation which began with the Computer Revolution Just as the Industrial Revolution eventually brought about extraordinary benefits for society artificial intelligence systems have the potential to do the same But Frey argues that this depends on how the short term is managed In the nineteenth century workers violently expressed their concerns over machines taking their jobs The Luddite uprisings joined a long wave of machinery riots that swept across Europe and China Today's despairing middle class has not resorted to physical force but their frustration has led to rising populism and the increasing fragmentation of society As middle class jobs continue to come under pressure there's no assurance that positive attitudes to technology will persist The Industrial Revolution was a defining moment in history but few grasped its enormous consequences at the time The Technology Trap demonstrates that in the midst of another technological revolution the lessons of the past can help us to more effectively face the present
