Russia's Economic Transitions Nicolas Spulber, 2003-04-10 Russia's Economic Transitions examines the three major transformations that the country underwent from the early 1860s to 2000 The first transition under Tsarism involved the partial break up of the feudal framework of land ownership and the move toward capitalist relations The second following the Communist revolution of 1917 brought to power a system of state ownership and administration a sui generis type of war economy state capitalism subjecting the economy's development to central commands The third started in the early 1990s and still unfolding is aiming at reshaping the inherited economic fabric on the basis of private ownership The three transitions originated within different settings but with a similar primary goal namely the changing of the economy's ownership pattern in the hopes of providing a better basis for subsequent development The treatment's originality impartiality and historical breadth have cogent economic social and political relevance

The Czech Republic and Economic Transition in Eastern Europe Jan Svejnar, 2013-10-22 The Czech Republic and Economic Transition in Eastern Europe is the first in depth comparative analysis of the Czech Republic's economic transition after the fall of the Communist bloc Edited by Jan Svejnar a principal architect of the Czech economic transformation and Economic Advisor to President Vaclav Havel the book poses important questions about the Republic and its partners in Central and Eastern Europe The thirty five essayists describe the country's macroeconomic performance its development of capital markets the structure and performance of its industries its unemployment household behavior and income distribution and the environmental and health issues it faces In this in depth comparative analysis of the Czech Republic's economic transition an international team of thirty five economists examine the Republic and its partners in Central and Eastern Europe Important questions and issues permeate the essays For example prior to 1939 the Czech Republic possessed the most advanced economy in the region is it capable of reestablishing its dominance Relative to its neighbors the Republic ranks especially high on some transition related performance indicators but low on others What economic effects are related to the 1993 dissolution of the Czech and Slovak governments And what can be learned by comparing the economic outcomes of two countries that shared legal and institutional frameworks Data describe the country's macroeconomic performance its development of capital markets the structure and performance of its industries its unemployment household behavior and income distribution and the environmental and health issues facing it Its most important contributions are its clarifications of the transition process The authors included in Transforming Czechoslovakia combine the best available data and techniques of economic analysis to assess the replacement of the inefficient but internally consistent central planning system with a more efficient market system These authors among whom are central European economic analysts senior U S economists and Czechoslovakian professors and economic researchers discuss the country s macroeconomic performance its development of capital markets the structure and performance of its industries its unemployment household behavior and income distribution and the environmental and health issues facing it The essays vary between presentations of history and policy and technical examinations of data Together they offer the most comprehensive and detailed assessment of the country s economic transformation in print This book is important because its essayists compile results and reach conclusions that are broad and credible The empirical data were gathered on the ground and have been subjected to advanced methodologies including game theory industrial organization and Granger Sims causality     Adaptation of Western Economics by Russian Universities Tatiana Suspitsyna,2005-08-23 This book examines an intercultural translation of economics as an academic field from Western to post Soviet university settings     The Western Economy in Transition Bernard L. When communism fell in 1989 the question for most Eastern European countries was not whether to go to a market economy but how to get there Several years later the difficult process of privatization and restructuring continues to concern the countries of the region The Transition in Eastern Europe Volumes 1 and 2 is an analysis of the experiences of various countries making the transition to market economies and examines the most important challenges still in store Volume 1 Country Studies gives an in depth country by country analysis of various reform experiences including historical backgrounds and discussions of policies and results to date The countries analyzed are Poland Czechoslovakia Hungary eastern Germany Slovenia and Russia Written by leading economists some of whom helped shape local and national reforms this volume identifies common progress common difficulties and tentative solutions to the problems of economic transition Volume 2 Restructuring focuses on specific issues of transition including how to design labor market institutions privatization new fiscal structures and bankruptcy laws how to reorganize foreign trade and how to promote foreign direct investment The articles written by experts in the field will be of direct help to those involved in the transition process These volumes provide a standard reference on economic transition in the region for policymakers in Eastern Europe and in western countries for international agencies concerned with the transition process and for anyone interested in learning about the dramatic changes that have recently occurred in Eastern Europe     A Study of Indian Economics Pramathanath Banerjea,1911

Western Society in Transition Volker Bornschier, 2018-04-24 An enormous acceleration of history has occurred in the current decade thereby radically changing world society in many respects. The core countries grouped around the triad formed by the United States, Japan, and the European Union have experienced successive waves of change marked by phases of ascent, unfolding, and decay of societal models. What seemed stable and predictable in past decades came close to collapse or broke down entirely. As a result, we are now living through a crisis of legitimation characterized by acute contradictions. A new order with a fresh basic consensus around an overarching set of norms that allows problems to be solved efficiently has not yet crystallized. Western Society in Transition examines the succession of societal models of the Western world and indications of its probable shape in the future. Bornschier characterizes the 1985-1995 period as a decade of Third World debt and depression, continued economic decline in the United States, a steady ascent of Japan, Western Europe's move toward political union, and the collapse of the Soviet Union. Against this background, he sketches various elements of a theoretical perspective he calls evolutionary conflict theory. The primary focus of interest of this theory is not on single societies but on measures of social transformation at the core of world society. Western Society in Transition deals with fundamental questions: How does social order arise and why does it dissolve? What provides social cohesion? What makes society progress? Institutional spheres of Western society such as technology, firms, the market, state, building, education, power, conflict, and social movements are analyzed in detail. Peter Lengyel, editor emeritus of the International Social Science Journal, says of Western Society in Transition: "I have never seen such a succinct, clear, and persuasive treatment which adroitly draws together elements from economics, history, sociology, and technology into a strictly contemporary kind of political economy. This timely assessment of the Western world will be of interest to social scientists, historians, economists, and international relations scholars." Reforming Economics and Economics Teaching in the Transition Economies Michael Watts, William B. Walstad, 2002 This comprehensive and impressive volume presents the first book-length, multi-country investigation of reform of economic education in transition economies. Authors from the West and from transition economies describe the major changes in economics content and instruction that occurred in schools and universities throughout nations in Eastern and Central Europe and the former Soviet Union from 1989 to 2000. Nine of the chapters discuss specific countries: Belarus, Bulgaria, Georgia, Kyrgyzstan, Latvia, Poland, Romania, Russia, and Ukraine. Other chapters describe reforms in the undergraduate economics curriculum at Moscow State University, Kiev State University, and Belarus State University. One chapter reports the findings from a five-nation study of the effect of economics programs to retrain teachers on the economic understanding of secondary students. Another chapter explains the important role of economic education in creating support for public policy reforms in a nation. The results from multi-national surveys of public attitudes toward economic reforms and the market economy are analyzed in one chapter. The book concludes with an insightful explanation of the major change agents responsible for the reform of academic economics and the teaching of economics in the transition economies. Anyone interested in economic education transition economies or educational reform in schools and universities will find this book a unique and fascinating reading Western capitalism in transition Alberta Andreotti, David Benassi, Yuri Kazepov, 2018-02-12 Since its emergence at the end of the seventeenth century industrial capitalism as a specific form of social organisation has set recurrent challenges to its own persistence and until today it has proved to be successful to develop new ways of accumulation based on its capacity of adaptation Is this process of transition now accelerating or reaching an end point This book is a critical exploration of capitalism in transition bringing together cutting edge world renowned scholars who reflect from different disciplinary points of view This collection engages with the primarily Western themes of welfare capitalism and social fragmentation Structured over three parts the book analyses the transformations of welfare societies and capitalism with a focus on South European welfare states and their in capacity to tackle poverty the transformation of work and migration with a special attention to informality and the question of social rights and the transformation of cities Dictionary of Contemporary Chinese Economics Hong Yinxing, 2025-05-26 This Dictionary provides the theoretical summary and conceptual framework around the milestones obtained through Chinese reform and development and highlights the research achievements of Chinese economics over the past 40 years It also presents Chinese economics to the world featuring the Belt and Road Initiative and the Chinese theory and Chinese system to be known and shared internationally with a Chinese intellectual foundation It sets out to frame the theoretical achievements of extraction and summary of practice experience from Chinese reform and development The choice of entries in the Dictionary seeks to embody the very Chinese characteristics of economics and the combination of theory and practice is illuminated Furthermore the dictionary explores examples of scientific achievements that traditional economics has brought forward and how they fit and unify within both a Chinese as well as an international context Social Programmes in the West Charles Richmond Henderson, 1913 1993 Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 1996 Journal articles books book chapters book reviews dissertations and selected government publications on East Central Europe and the former Soviet Union published in the United States and Canada The New World of Islam Lothrop Stoddard, 1921 East & West, 1905 Principles of Comparative Economics Radhakamal Mukerjee, 1921 Vol 1 examines the principles of economics vol 2 covers the socio economic situation in India Economic Aspects of the Beef Cattle Industry Carroll Francis Dunshee, Edwin Coblentz Voorhies, Emil Rauchenstein, Francis Xavier Schumacher, George Hart Hart, Harry Richard Wellman, Sherwood William Shear, Walter Pearson Kelley, 1928
