

A wide-angle photograph of a two-lane asphalt road that curves gently to the right. The road is flanked by metal guardrails. The surrounding landscape is hilly and arid, with dry, yellowish-brown vegetation. In the distance, there are more hills and a small town or village. The sky is filled with large, white, fluffy clouds. The overall scene conveys a sense of a long, open journey.

You Can Get There from Here Paul LeBlanc, 2013-06-27 Forward Dear Paul My friend Paul LeBlanc and I have had many wonderful adventures together over the years I knew we were going to be friends when we first met on a film called Silence of the North in 1981 We were shooting in northern Canada in 40 degree temperatures I had a scene where I had to run out of my cabin because a bear was on the roof and shoot the bear Paul and I were inside the cabin just the two of us waiting for my cue When the bear went on the roof the rafters of the cabin started sagging and the snow came pouring in It looked like the roof was going to give way and the bear fall through and join us in the small cabin We were terrified At which point Paul wailed Oh please I just wanted to be a hairdresser I laughed so hard I dropped my rifle And what a hairdresser he is Hes always been my favorite not just for his amazing artistry which he demonstrated on me over and over again in many films but most particularly in Requiem for a Dream in 2000 Hes done my hair not only for films but also for the Oscars the Tonys in Paris in London in limousines in all temperatures and under every imaginable condition But weve always had a great time together and hes always made me laugh as Im sure readers of his book will Ellen Burstyn 2006 You Can Get There from Here Shirley MacLaine, 1975 Invited to visit the People s Republic of China the author and a group of American women were not prepared for what they saw and learned You Can't Get There from Here Ryan Porter, 2019-04-08 Rather than reading small town representations in Canadian literature as portraits of a parochial past or a lost golden age this book claims that they are best understood as sophisticated statements on the effects of modernity in an ever more cosmopolitan world In Ontario as urbanization increased over the past century small towns became a popular literary trope and Ryan Porter argues that literary small towns are reflections and even sublimated explorations of contemporary life Referencing the theories of heritage scholars who view popularly understood pasts as constructions shaped by changing sensibilities You Can t Get There from Here argues that the literary small town Ontario past is malleable consisting of attempts to come to terms with the present in which the narrators find themselves The book focuses on four key Ontario authors Stephen Leacock Robertson Davies Alice Munro and Jane Urquhart as well as many secondary authors and links the readings to much broader trends in actual Ontario towns and in popular culture Can't Get There from Here Todd Strasser, 2004-04 Tired of being hungry cold and dirty from living on the streets of New York City with a tribe of other homeless teenagers who are dying one by one a girl named Maybe ponders her future and longs for someone to care about her How Do I Get There from Here? George Schofield, 2017-08-17 No matter how far or close you think you are to retirement this book is your one stop guide to help you plot your direction for the coming decades Not long ago everyone knew what the word retirement meant retire at age 65 after 40 years at the same job and coast through your golden years courtesy of a comfortable nest egg But now age expectancy is higher savings are slimmer and people change jobs more frequently Clinging to this outdated concept of retirement only gets you a room in your kids house Your retirement is going to require an incremental approach to planning and you must begin now This requires conscious engagement diverse interests and the ability to adapt In How Do I Get There from Here readers will first be directed how to review all their assets both tangible and intangible so they can get an honest assessment of where they are right now Then a journey through self reflective questions and exercises will walk you through imagining your future identifying skills you ll need and learning how to prepare for inevitable twists and turns along the way Stop clinging to an ancient and stereotypical idea of retirement Decades of nonstop leisure is not only unreachable for most it s not even truly desirable Begin now charting the path for a unique dynamic future you can look forward to
