Visualization And Mathematics Iii:

Visualization and Mathematics III Hans-Christian Hege, Konrad Polthier, 2013-11-11 Mathematical Visualization aims at an abstract framework for fundamental objects appearing in visualization and at the application of the manifold visualization techniques to problems in geometry topology and numerical mathematics The articles in this volume report on new research results in this field on the development of software and educational material and on mathematical applications The book grew out of the third international workshop Visualization and Mathematics which was held from May 22 25 2002 in Berlin Germany The workshop was funded by the DFG Sonderforschungsbereich 288 Differential Geometry and Quantum Physics at Technische Universitat Berlin and supported by the Zuse Institute Berlin ZIB and the DFG research center Mathematics for Key Technologies FZT 86 in Berlin Five keynote lectures eight invited presentations and several contributed talks created a stimulating atmosphere with many scientific discussions The themes of this book cover important recent developments in the following fields Geometry and Combinatorics of Meshes Discrete Vector Fields and Topology Geometric Modelling Image Based Visualization Software Environments and Applications Education and Communication We hope that the research articles of this book will stimulate the readers own work and will further strengthen the development of the field of Mathematical Visualization VI Preface We appreciate the thorough work of the authors and reviewers on each of the individual articles and we thank you all

Norris, John S. Macnab, 2010-09-02 Science education at school level worldwide faces three perennial problems that have become more pressing of late These are to a considerable extent interwoven with concerns about the entire school curriculum and its reception by students The first problem is the increasing intellectual isolation of science from the other subjects in the school curriculum Science is too often still taught didactically as a collection of pre determined truths about which there can be no dispute As a consequence many students do not feel any ownership of these ideas Most other school subjects do somewhat better in these regards For example in language classes students suggest different interpretations of a text and then debate the relative merits of the cases being put forward Moreover ideas that are of use in science are presented to students elsewhere and then re taught often using different terminology in science For example algebra is taught in terms of $x y z$ in mathematics classes but students are later unable to see the relevance of that to the meaning of the universal gas laws in physics where $p v t$ are used The result is that students are confused and too often alienated leading to their failure to achieve that extraction of an education from a scheme of instruction which Jerome Bruner thought so highly desirable Visualization and Mathematics H.-C. Hege, K. Polthier, 2012-12-06 Visualization and mathematics have begun a fruitful relationship establishing links between problems and solutions of both fields In some areas of mathematics like differential geometry and numerical mathematics visualization techniques are applied with great success However visualization methods are relying heavily on mathematical concepts Applications of visualization in mathematical research and the use of mathematical methods in visualization have been topic of an international workshop in Berlin in June 1995 Selected contributions treat topics of particular interest in current research Experts are reporting on their latest work giving an overview on this fascinating new area The reader will get insight to state of the art techniques for solving visualization problems and mathematical questions
