automated within the next two decades Female workers face a higher risk of automation compared to male workers 11 percent of the female workforce relative to 9 percent of the male workforce albeit with significant heterogeneity across sectors and countries Less well educated and older female workers aged 40 and above as well as those in low skill clerical service and sales positions are disproportionately exposed to automation Extrapolating our results we find that around 180 million female jobs are at high risk of being displaced globally Policies are needed to endow women with required skills close gender gaps in leadership positions bridge digital gender divide as ongoing digital transformation could confer greater flexibility in work benefiting women ease transitions for older and low skilled female workers
