Horror and Science Fiction Films IV Donald C. Willis, 1997-08-07 This fourth title in a unique series that combines reference and analytical qualities in chronicling the horror and science fiction genres Horror and Science Fiction Films IV brings the earlier three volumes in the series up to date concentrating on the period from 1984-1994 as well as updating entries from the previous volumes and adding newly discovered titles from 1900-1983. Entries in the main list include credits, cast, synopsis and annotation. The introduction lists 1995 releases in the genres and 1996 releases through the summer, citing the more memorable films in the genres for both the current period and 1900-1984 and serves as an index to key titles in the main list including long lost titles such as the obscure silent Were Tiger and the 1931 The Phantom. Willis includes many films from around the world that are not found in any other English language film reference work. One appendix provides thumbnail descriptions of problem and peripheral films, another updates entries in the first three books with alternate titles and a third appendix serves as an index to the approximately 7,000 films listed in the first three volumes in the series as well as in the current volume, thus bringing the total number of films covered in this series to roughly 11,000 titles.

Clive Barker's A-Z of Horror Clive Barker, 1997 This is an exploration of the tradition of horror from its earliest origins as far back as the biblical victim Job to the monsters, slashers, satanic children and serial killers who represent our anxieties today. Each letter of the alphabet is used as a starting point for an aspect, element or ingredient of horror. It may be a scene in a film such as the shower scene in Psycho or a character such as Freddie in Nightmare on Elm Street. Or it may be an idea such as evil, violence or darkness which is explored to reveal hidden meanings. Other themes examined include the psychological impact of horror, the role of women as heroines and victims and the incarnation of the film monster.
