Northern Landscapes Tom E. Faulkner, Helen Berry, Jeremy Gregory, 2010 How distinctive is the landscape of the North East of England How far does its distinctive nature contribute to region s identity These are key questions addressed by this book drawing on hiterto little known detail and many new research findings

North-east England in the Later Middle Ages Christian Drummond Liddy, R. H. Britnell, 2005 The medieval development of the distinct region of north east England explored through close examination of landscape religion and history The recent surge of interest in the political ecclesiastical social and economic history of north eastern England is reflected in the essays in this volume The topics covered range widely including the development of both rural and urban life and institutions There are contributions on the well known richness of Durham cathedral muniments its priory and bishopric and there is also a particular focus on the institutions and practices which evolved to deal with Scottish border problems A number of papers broach lesser known subjects which accordingly offer new territory for exploration among them the distinctive characteristics of local jurisdiction in the northern counties the formation of north eastern landscapes the course of agrarian development in the region and the emergence of a northern gentry class alongside the better known ecclesiastical and lay magnates

CHRISTIAN D LIDDY is Lecturer in History at the University of Durham where R H BRITNELL is Emeritus Professor

The Rise of a Victorian Ironopolis Minoru Yasumoto, 2011 Explains the astonishing growth of Middlesbrough from a hamlet to a very substantial town in the space of a few decades in the middle of the nineteenth century Middlesbrough s rise was truly extraordinary from almost nothing in 1850 to a great industrial city within a few decades its success based on iron and steel This book examines the development It discusses the role of urban planners charts the growth of the iron and steel industry including the introduction of new manufacturing techniques and the exploitation of important local iron ore deposits and explores the role of a vast range of self help institutions through which workers supported themselves at a time when aid from the state was minimal It shows how industries clustered explaining why Middlesbrough became the hub of such a cluster outlines the demographic nature of the workforce showing how there was much migration with people coming to Middlesbrough to work for a while then leaving and concludes by examining the adverse factors which quickly became apparent some of which were to lead to Middlesbrough s decline over dependence on one industry a relatively undiversified economic and social structure and insufficient urban infrastructure which left the city vulnerable to debilitating environmental pollution

MINORU YASUMOTO is a Professor in the Faculty of Economics at Komazawa University Japan

Murder, Magic, Madness Davies Owen, 2014-05-22 In 1856 William Dove a young tenant farmer was tried and executed for the poisoning of his wife Harriet The trial might have been a straightforward case of homicide but because Dove became involved with Henry Harrison a

Leeds wizard and demonstrated through his actions and words a strong belief in magic and the powers of the devil considerable effort was made to establish whether these beliefs were symptomatic of insanity It seems that Dove murdered his wife to hasten a prediction made by Harrison that he would remarry a more attractive and wealthy woman Dove employed Harrison to perform various acts of magic and also made his own written pact with the devil to improve his personal circumstances The book will study Dove s beliefs and Harrison s activities within the rural and urban communities in which they lived and examine how modern cultures attempted to explain this largely hidden mental world which was so sensationally exposed The Victorian period is often portrayed as an age of great social and educational progress This book shows how beliefs dismissed by some Victorians as medieval superstitions continued to influence the thoughts and actions of many people viz most famously Conan table tapper Doyle
