There Hangs The Knife:

Marcia Muller and the Female Private Eye Alexander N. Howe, Christine A. Jackson, 2014-11-01 In 1977 Marcia Muller invaded the all male domain of detective literature and within a decade was established as the mother of the female hardboiled private eye She is now the author of four detective series including the critically acclaimed Sharon McCone series of more than two dozen novels This collection critically assesses Marcia Muller s writing and reevaluates current critical views on women s detective fiction in general In the first two of the book s three sections essays explore Muller s engagement with modern and postmodern feminism ethnicity and the socially underprivileged The third section focuses on one of Muller s major themes the trauma of history Drawing from the feminist historicist mythic psychoanalytic and cultural approaches found in all three sections the conclusion offers a panoramic perspective on Muller s accomplishments Next

Line, Please David Lehman, 2018-03-15 In this book David Lehman the longtime series editor of the Best American Poetry offers a masterclass in writing in form and collaborative composition An inspired compilation of his weekly column on the American Scholar website Next Line Please makes the case for poetry open to all Next Line Please gathers in one place the popular column s plethora of exercises and prompts that Lehman designed to unlock the imaginations of poets and creative writers He offers his generous and playful mentorship on forms such as the sonnet haiku tanka sestina limerick and the cento and shares strategies for how to build one line from the last This groundbreaking book shows how pop up crowds of poets can inspire one another making art with what poet and guest editor Angela Ball refers to as spontaneous feats of language How can poetry thrive in the digital age Next Line Please shows the way Lehman writes There is something magical about poetry and though we think of the poet as working alone working in the dark it is all the better when a community of like minded individuals emerges sharing their joy in the written word Scribbling and Carding George R.
