The Killing Star Charles Pellegrino, George Zebrowski, 2024-01-23 A near future thriller of a devastating alien invasion from the paleontologist who inspired Jurassic Park and the award-winning science fiction author There were always those who disagreed with broadcasting signals into the deepest reaches of outer space because our mere existence could be taken as a threat They were right to be concerned In the spring of 2076 just days short of America's tricentennial celebrations every inhabited surface in the solar system gets wiped out by a catastrophic storm of relativistic bombs flaming swords that pierced the sky The only two survivors left on Earth exist in a submersible that had been exploring the Titanic's final resting place on the bottom of the North Atlantic In space only the settlers in small asteroid-based colonies have gone unnoticed by the aliens for now But any sign of life any call for help might bring the intruders straight to them These far-flung survivors are now on their own stalked by a ruthless faceless enemy straight out of the nightmares of humanity's greatest minds those lone voices whose warnings went ignored A novel of such conceptual ferocity and scientific plausibility that it amounts to a reinvention of that old Wellsian staple alien invasion The New York Times Book Review Relentless The ultimate disaster novel A thought experiment and warning The Denver Post A whirlwind of ideas full of action and danger Pellegrino and Zebrowski are working territory not too far removed from Arthur C Clarke's and anywhere Clarke is popular this book should be too Booklist

Black Pockets George Zebrowski, 2012-06-11 This collection of 19 horror stories culled from the career of a writer best known for his literary science fiction explores horror as a product of the human mind by allowing personal political and metaphysical obsessions to unleash terrors that beset these characters and by refusing to rely on genre typical terrors such as serial killers and ancient curses The original novella Black Pockets depicts a man who consumes hate so all consuming that he makes a bargain to carry out the revenge plot of a dying enemy in order to gain the power to pursue his own victims In unusual zombie tale I Walked with Fidel Fidel Castro's ideals are slowly betrayed by both Cold War superpowers And a Kafka like uneasiness pervades A Piano Full of Dead Spiders in which a composer's music actually is the result of spiders walking on piano strings Posing as philosophical puzzles the stories gain emotional power from an attention to character development and the insightful investigation of both private and collective nightmares
