Great writing doesn't have to be a mystery nor an expensive, frustrating series of coaching sessions. Often all many writers need are motivational tips, some inspiration, insight, or a few good writing prompts to unleash the best writing possible. You can now get all that and more in Writers on Writing: Inside the Lives of 55 Distinguished Writers and Editors. Have you ever wondered what sets the great writers apart from the average writers? Have you ever wondered how to up your own writing and move from average into award-winning? Would you like personalized writing coaching to help you achieve your creative dreams? Are you looking for inspiration? Direction? Writing coach Chip Scanlan offers that and more in his new book Writers on Writing: Inside the Lives of 55 Distinguished Writers and Editors. Chip's challenge when writing this book was to discover the thinking, the process, and the skills of great writers and to share them with others. He spent two years seeking out great writers and interviewing them, collecting their answers to four simple questions in their own words and creating writing prompts to inspire and motivate other writers to explore their own writing process. These 55 interviews take a broad look at the researching, interviewing, and writing secrets behind Pulitzer Prize winners, journalism, and book award-winning writing. By asking each writer or editor four questions about lessons learned, Chip found some surprise answers, many metaphors, and the best writing advice the professionals have to offer. Teachers, coaches, and writing groups will find this book lends itself well to exploring the thoughts and processes of great writers. The accompanying journal adds coaching tips to the writing prompts and gives teachers and students a writing course to read, write, and document their own writing journey. Both books can be read independently or as companion books.
