Japan and the Reconstruction of East Asia D. Kelly, 2001-12-17 Dominic Kelly has written a fascinating study of Japanese policies designed to lead to the reconstruction of East Asia He presents a detailed picture of Japanese activity in East Asia in the areas of production finance security and knowledge and maps out the historical context upon which this activity rests In doing so Kelly sheds light on the increasingly powerful but imperfectly understood phenomenon of regionalism He goes on to identify the major fault line situated beneath both theoretical accounts of Japanese regionalism and real world predictions of its success or failure

Invisible Crisis of Contemporary Society Bernard S Phillips, Louis C. Johnston, 2015-12-03 Is there a growing gap in today's world between cultural aspirations and their fulfillment a gap that is increasing social problems of all kinds If so what forces are producing that gap How can these forces be changed To answer these questions Phillips and Johnston employ a very broad approach to the scientific method drawing evidence from a wide variety of data and sources including sociologists psychologists political scientists historians philosophers educators psychiatrists and novelists They find substantial evidence for a widening gap suggesting an invisible crisis throughout contemporary society They also find substantial evidence that a simplistic and static metaphysical stance or worldview is largely responsible for that gap and that an alternative worldview can work to close that gap

Something for Everyone? Simone Boogaarts-de Bruin, 2011 The urban population is becoming increasingly diverse and growing ethnic diversity is having a singular effect on nightlife in Dutch cities By studying the motivation behind and nightlife choices of the young people who participate in ethno party scenes Boogaarts de Bruin investigates how the changing urban population affects the supply side of the nightlife market using an analytical model she has developed and which she calls the model of structured choice This approach is sensitive to the flexible use of the processes of agency and structure due to the systematic distinction that it makes between societal and personal factors Accordingly it is revealed that in order to analyze and adequately explain the nightlife experiences of and choices made by ethnic youngsters an integrated model is required which centralizes the interaction between the structural strategies of the producers on the one hand and the personal preferences and agency of the consumers on the other What is more this book demonstrates that nightlife has changed because of the increasing ethnic diversity of the Dutch population Finally in the epilogue the fieldwork results are discussed in light of the currently heated debate regarding the integration processes of ethnic minority young people in nightlife
