

DESIGNING FOR ALL AGES & ABILITIES

Every design must meet the needs of a diverse range of potential bike riders. Across North America, however, many existing bike facility design practices are limited to only the widest range of age and ability. Many who might otherwise use a bike facility are often excluded by design choices that do not consider the needs of older adults, people with disabilities, and children. This guide provides a variety of design recommendations to help designers create bike facilities that are safe, usable, and enjoyable for all ages and abilities. The guide also provides a checklist of design recommendations to help designers create bike facilities that are safe, usable, and enjoyable for all ages and abilities.

Urban Bikeway Design Guide

National Association of City Transportation Officials

Third Edition

The third edition of the Urban Bikeway Design Guide provides updated guidance on design practices to help designers create bike facilities that are safe, usable, and enjoyable for all ages and abilities. The guide also provides a checklist of design recommendations to help designers create bike facilities that are safe, usable, and enjoyable for all ages and abilities.

OUR VISION

Cities where safe, sustainable, and equitable transportation systems connect communities to the resources they need to thrive
