DayWater Daniel R. Thevenot, 2008-03-15 The European DayWater project has developed a prototype of an Adaptive Decision Support System ADSS related to urban stormwater pollution source control The DayWater ADSS greatly facilitates decision making for stormwater source control which is currently impeded by the large number of stakeholders involved and by the necessary multidisciplinary knowledge This book presents the results of this project providing new insights into both technical and management issues The main objectives of its technical chapters are pollution source control modelling risk and impact assessment and evaluation and comparison of best management practices It also covers management aspects such as the analysis of the decision making processes in stormwater source control at a European scale and stormwater management strategies in general The combination of scientific technical and socio managerial knowledge with the strong cooperation of numerous end users reflects the innovative character of this book which includes actual applications of the ADSS prototype in significant case studies DayWater an Adaptive Decision Support System for Urban Stormwater Management contains 26 chapters collectively prepared by DayWater scientific partners and end users associated with this European Research and Development project It includes A general presentation of the DayWater Adaptive Decision Support System ADSS structure and operation modes A detailed description of the major components of this ADSS prototype The assessment of its components in significant case studies in France Germany and Sweden The proceedings of the International Conference on Decision Support Systems for Integrated Urban Water Management held in Paris on 3 4 November 2005 The book presents the ADSS prototype including a combination of freely accessible on line databases guidance documents road maps and modelling or multi criteria analysis tools As demonstrated in several significant case studies the challenge for stormwater managers is to make the benefits of urban stormwater management visible to society resulting in active co operation of a diversity of stakeholders Only then will sustainable management succeed DayWater an Adaptive Decision Support System for Urban Stormwater Management advances this cause of sustainable urban management through Urban stormwater management and makes achievable by means of risk and vulnerability tools which are included the goal of integrated urban water management IUWM

Non Point Pollution and Urban Stormwater Management Vladimir Novotny,1995-10-11 Directions of diffuse pollution research and Best Management Practices are evolving and effective and affordable methods of control are being developed to handle the abatement of toxic pollutants from atmospheric deposition and urban and agricultural runoff This book provides a useful manual covering the most important topics and solutions of the diffuse pollution problem with emphasis on urban sources and abatement

Design of Urban Stormwater Controls Water Environment Federation. Design of Urban Stormwater Controls Task Force,Water Environment Federation,Environmental and Water Resources Institute (U.S.),2012-05-29 MOP 87 promotes the protection of urban water resources by controlling stormwater runoff with an emphasis on combining traditional stormwater controls with green infrastructure

Nature-Based Solutions for Urban Water Management Junguo Liu,Zhan Tian,Qinhua Ye,Laixiang Sun,Shiqiang Wu,2024-02-23 Water plays an essential role in the development and functioning of a city but could also be a key risk factor for urban pluvial flooding which may occur more frequently in the context of future climate change The traditional means of flood risk management relied heavily on engineering measures or the use of gray infrastructure Recently there has been a call to integrate nature based solutions NBS which make use of natural processes and ecosystem services with conventional engineering approaches NBS infrastructures and designs pay great attention to ecosystem services considerations in assessing their induced hydrological processes as well as in managing the stormwater and mitigating urban flood and droughts Nevertheless compared with grey infrastructure larger space could be demanded for NBS while the buffer effect for NBS in extremes events is still uncertain for evaluation

Integrated Urban Water Management: Arid and Semi-Arid Regions Larry Mays,2014-04-21 The Integrated Urban Water Management IUWM is an emerging approach to managing the entire urban water cycle in an integrated way which is key to achieving the sustainability of urban water resources and services An examination of integrated management of water resources in urban settings this book focuses on issues specific to arid and semi arid regions It provides an overview of the various aspects of IUWM in arid and semi arid regions emphasizing water supply technologies such as artificial recharge water transfers desalination and rainfall harvesting The book discusses water excess management in the context of the stormwater and the floodplain management systems It includes case studies from developed and developing countries that underline the needs and challenges of water management in urban environments in arid and semi arid regions around the world

Urban Storm Water Management Hormoz Pazwash,2025 Urban Storm Water Management Third Edition covers the design installation and maintenance of storm water management systems addresses the impact of urban development on runoff and infiltration and focuses on storm water management relative to flooding and water pollution Recognizing that urbanization increases and accelerates runoff reduces infiltration and deteriorates water quality the author proposes storm water runoff as a resource that can be conserved for reuse He suggests the reuse of storm water runoff in general and rainwater from roofs in particular as a cost effective means to achieve long term sustainability In addition the book explores green infrastructure as the future of storm water management and introduces techniques that can help reduce the thermal impacts of storm water management practices Provides an updated presentation of urbanization s impact on storm water Presents further analysis of the universal runoff model and the application of this model to non uniform rainfalls Offers a more detailed presentation of storm water management systems especially bio filtration basins Includes a comparative analysis of the effectiveness and costs of best management practices BMPs Contains an in depth discussion of the means of collecting storm water such as roof rain for outdoor and certain indoor uses

Urban Stormwater Management Planning with Analytical Probabilistic Models Barry J. Adams,Fabian Papa,2000-03-27 Understanding how to properly manage urban stormwater is a critical concern to civil and environmental engineers the world over Mismanagement of stormwater and urban runoff results in flooding erosion and water quality problems In an effort to develop better management techniques engineers have come to rely on computer simulation and advanced mathematical modeling techniques to help plan and predict water system performance This important book outlines a new method that uses probability tools to model how stormwater behaves and interacts in a combined or single system municipal water system Complete with sample problems and case studies illustrating how concepts really work the book presents a cost effective easy to master approach to analytical modeling of stormwater management systems

Urban Water II S. Mambretti,C. A. Brebbia,2014-05-27 Urban Water II is the proceedings of the 2nd International Conference on the Design Construction Maintenance Monitoring and Control of Urban Water Systems The meeting was reconvened following the success of the first conference held in the New Forest home to the Wessex Institute of Technology in 2012 Water systems in the urban environment consist of supply networks as well as sewage and storm drainage systems They interact with each other and with warm bodies such as rivers lakes and aquifers and this interaction affects the quality and quantity of the different systems As our cities continue to expand their urban infrastructure must be re evaluated and adapted to new requirements related to the increase in population and the growing areas under urbanisation New water systems are also required to reduce the risk associated with floods network failures and many others related to inadequate networks New systems should reduce economic losses and environmental impacts as well as promote a higher degree of reliability Improved management measurement and control mechanisms are needed to ensure the efficiency and safety of urban water systems Topics such as contamination and pollution discharges in urban water bodies as well as the monitoring of water recycling systems are currently receiving a great deal of attention from researchers and professional engineers working in the water industry Architects and town planners are also aware of the importance of the interaction between urban water cycles and city planning and landscaping Management of all these aspects requires the development of specialised computer tools that can respond to the increased complexity of urban water systems Relating to the subject areas of Water supply networks and Urban Drainage topics covered include Leakage and losses Modelling and experimentation Safety and security of water systems Maintenance and repairs Water quality Water savings and reuse Surface water and groundwater sources Reservoirs Network design Waste water treatment and disposal Structural works and infrastructure Water quality issues Combined sewer networks Flood control Storage tanks Environmental impact Domestic and industrial waste water issues
