Social Mindscapes:

Social Mindscapes Eviatar Zerubavel, 1999-10-15 Cognitive science addresses cognition on two levels individual and universal To fill the gap between the Romantic vision of the solitary thinker and the cognitive psychological view revolving around a search for universal foundations of cognition Zerubavel charts a social realm of mind one focused on conventional normative aspects of thinking Social Mindscapes Eviatar Zerubavel, 2010 Social Mindscapes Eviatar Zerubavel, 1999-10-15 Why do we eat sardines but never goldfish ducks but never parrots Why does adding cheese make a hamburger a cheeseburger whereas adding ketchup does not make it a ketchupburger By the same token how do we determine which things said at a meeting should be included in the minutes and which ought to be considered off the record and officially disregarded In this wide ranging and provocative book Eviatar Zerubavel argues that cognitive science cannot answer these questions since it addresses cognition on only two levels the individual and the universal To fill the gap between the Romantic vision of the solitary thinker whose thoughts are the product of unique experience and the cognitive psychological view which revolves around the search for the universal foundations of human cognition Zerubavel charts an expansive social realm of mind a domain that focuses on the conventional normative aspects of the way we think With witty anecdote and revealing analogy Zerubavel illuminates the social foundation of mental actions such as perceiving attending classifying remembering assigning meaning and reckoning the time What takes place inside our heads he reminds us is deeply affected by our social environments which are typically groups that are larger than the individual yet considerably smaller than the human race Thus we develop a nonuniversal software for thinking as Americans or Chinese lawyers or teachers Catholics or Jews Baby Boomers or Gen Xers Zerubavel explores the fascinating ways in which thought communities carve up and classify reality assign meanings and perceive things defamiliarizing in the process many taken for granted assumptions Social Memory among the Literati of Yehud Ehud Ben Zvi, 2019-07-22 Ehud Ben Zvi has been at the forefront of exploring how the study of social memory contributes to our understanding of the intellectual world of the literati of the early Second Temple period and their textual repertoire Many of his studies on the matter and several new relevant works are here collected together providing a very useful resource for furthering research and teaching in this area The essays included here address inter alia prophets as sites of memory kings as sites memory Jerusalem as a site of memory a mnemonic system shaped by two interacting national histories matters of identity and othering as framed and explored via memories mnemonic metanarratives making sense of the past and serving various didactic purposes and their problems memories of past and futures events shared by the literati issues of gender constructions and memory memories understood by the group as counterfactual and their importance and in multiple ways how and why shared memories served as a safe playground for exploring multiple central ideological issues within the group and of generative grammars governing systemic preferences and dis preferences for particular memories The ^AElephant in the Room Eviatar Zerubavel, 2006-04-01 In

The Elephant in the Room Eviatar Zerubavel sheds new light on the social and political underpinnings of silence and denial the keeping of open secrets Zerubavel shows how conspiracies of silence evolve illuminating the social pressures that cause people to deny what is right before their eyes Drawing on examples from newspapers and comedy shows to novels children s stories and film the book travels back and forth across different levels of social life and from everyday moments to large scale historical events

Defining All-Israel in Chronicles Louis C. Jonker,2016-05-17 In this book Louis C Jonker considers more sophisticated and nuanced models for applying the heuristic lens of identity in the interpretation of the Hebrew Bible book of Chronicles Not only does he investigate the potential and limitations of different sociological models for this purpose but the author also provides a more nuanced analysis of the socio historical context of origin of late Persian period biblical literature by distinguishing between four levels of socio historic existence in this period It is shown that varying power relations were in operation on these different levels which contributed to a multi levelled process of identity negotiation Louis C Jonker shows the value of the chosen methodological approach in his analysis of Chronicles but also suggests that it holds potential for the investigation of other Hebrew Bible corpora

Sonnenstuhl,2001 The ongoing decline in union membership is generally attributed to an increasingly hostile economic legal and managerial environment Samuel B Bacharach Peter A Bamberger and William J Sonnenstuhl argue that the decline may have more to do with a crisis of union legitimacy and member commitment They further suggest that both problems could be addressed if the unions return to their nineteenth century mutual aid based roots The authors contend that the labor movement is characterized by two models of union member relations the mutual aid logic and the servicing logic The first predominated in the early days and encouraged a sense of community among members who worked to support one another In the twentieth century it was largely replaced by the servicing model which asks little of members who remain loyal only if their leaders deliver increasing wages and benefits Regaining legitimacy and strengthening member commitment can only happen the authors claim if mutual aid logic is allowed to return They examine three unions in the transportation industry to judge the effectiveness of new programs created after the old model General Systems Theory and the Psychological Sciences William Gray,Jay W.
