Tunnel Visions:

Invasions Christian K. Melby, 2025-04-15 Invasions is an ambitious new and authoritative study of one of the defining cultural products of the Victorian and Edwardian eras. By the outbreak of war in 1914, invasion scare fiction had profoundly changed British society, becoming not just a vibrant part of popular culture but a reference point among military planners, advertisers, and politicians. This intersection between politics and culture, between entertainment and war planning, sets invasion scare stories apart as one of the most versatile and interesting fictional products in modern British history. Building on recent work in both history and literature studies, Invasions is the first study of invasion scare fiction to examine both the form that is fiction and the function, the political argument of the genre.

Criminal Investigative Failures D. Kim Rossmo, 2008-12-15 Avoid Major Investigative Traps What causes competent and dedicated investigators to make avoidable mistakes jeopardizing the successful resolution of their cases? Authored by a 21-year police veteran and university research professor, Criminal Investigative Failures comprehensively defines and discusses the causes and problems most common to failure.

Tunnel Vision Katherine Johnson Ringsmuth, 2012 Interdisciplinarity and Climate Change Roy Bhaskar, Cheryl Frank, Karl Georg Høyer, Petter Naess, Jenneth Parker, 2010-02-25 Interdisciplinarity and Climate Change is a major new book addressing one of the most challenging questions of our time. Its unique standpoint is based on the recognition that effective and coherent interdisciplinarity is necessary to deal with the issue of climate change and the multitude of linked phenomena which both constitute and connect to it. In the opening chapter, Roy Bhaskar makes use of the extensive resources of critical realism to articulate a comprehensive framework for multidisciplinary, interdisciplinarity, transdisciplinarity, and cross-disciplinary understanding, one which duly takes account of ontological as well as epistemological considerations. Many of the subsequent chapters seek to show how this general approach can be used to make intellectual sense of the complex phenomena in and around the issue of climate change, including our response to it. Among the issues discussed in a number of graphic and compelling studies by a range of distinguished contributors, both activists and scholars, are: The dangers of reducing all environmental energy and climate gas issues to questions of carbon dioxide emissions; The problems of integrating natural and social scientific work and the perils of monodisciplinary tunnel vision; The consequences of the neglect of issues of consumption in climate policy; The desirability of a care-based ethics and of the integration of cultural considerations into climate policy; The problem of relating theoretical knowledge to practical action in contemporary democratic societies. Interdisciplinarity and Climate Change is essential reading for all serious students of the fight against climate change, the interactions between governmental bodies and critical realism.

Wrongful Conviction in Sexual Assault Matthew Barry Johnson, 2020-10-19 Despite the increasing public and academic interest in exonerations, Wrongful Conviction in Sexual Assault is the first book to examine the preponderance of sexual assault cases among US wrongful convictions. The book presents compelling coverage of high-profile wrongful conviction cases and also lesser-known cases that reveal
