world views In particular they create characters who manifest what Ruppert calls multiple identities determined by both Native and non Native perceptions of the self These writers use a variety of narrative techniques deriving from different cultural traditions They might incorporate Native oral storytelling techniques adapting them to written form or they might reconstruct Native mythologies investing them with new meaning and relevance by applying them to contemporary situations As novel writers they also include features more characteristic of western European writing such as the omniscient narrator or the detective story plot The Cambridge Companion to Literature and the Environment Louise Westling,2014 This authoritative collection of rigorous but accessible essays investigates the exciting new interdisciplinary field of environmental literary criticism Singing an Indian Song Dorothy R. The Red Land to the South James Howard Cox,2012 The forty years of American Indian literature taken up by James H Cox the decades between 1920 and 1960 have been called politically and intellectually moribund On the contrary Cox identifies a group of American Indian writers who share an interest in the revolutionary potential of the indigenous peoples of Mexico and whose work demonstrates a surprisingly assertive literary politics in the era By contextualizing this group of American Indian authors in the work of their contemporaries Cox reveals how the literary history of this period is far more rich and nuanced than is generally acknowledged The writers he focuses on Todd Downing Choctaw Lynn Riggs Cherokee and D Arcy McNickle Confederated Salish and Kootenai are shown to be on par with writers of the preceding Progressive and the succeeding Red Power and Native American literary renaissance eras Arguing that American Indian literary history of this period actually coheres in exciting ways with the literature of the Native American literary renaissance Cox repudiates the intellectual and political border that has emerged between the two eras Singing an Indian Song Dorothy Ragon Parker,1992 The National Congress of American Indians The child of a Metis mother and white father he was an enrolled member of the Flathead Tribe of Montana But first and largely by choice he was a Native American who sought to restore pride and self determination to all Native American people Based on a wide range of previously untapped sources this first
