

With Department of Commerce figures showing us that 80 percent of Americans are dissatisfied with their work, along comes Marilyn Shook with Working Happy: Dodging Bullets, Making Changes, Finding Joy which is filled with small-to-small common sense. If ever there was a cure for the lackluster attitude towards work, it's in these pages. Marilyn gives readers solid wisdom, but does it in a very readable manner.

The True Cost of Happiness Stacey Tisdale, Paula Boyer Kennedy, 2007-09-24 Personal money management advice that makes sense In The True Cost of Happiness financial journalist Stacey Tisdale and expert financial planner Paula Boyer Kennedy combine their extensive financial experience with a powerful series of interviews and real world stories to help you make personal money management decisions that make more sense They begin by discussing how the factors that drive our financial choices and behavior not only run deep but also represent the way we define ourselves From there they reveal how this truth will determine if you can create the kind of financial harmony that not only supports the life you want but also makes an honest statement of who you really are The questions they pose are challenging but essential because if your financial choices and behavior are not aligned with your true values you'll always feel like something is missing And it is this disconnect that is at the root of most anxiety and unhappiness over money Reveals how the first lessons we learn about money as children play out in our adult behavior Discusses how the messages that society sends us about the ways in which

The Well-Balanced World Changer Sarah Cunningham, 2013-09-16 What happens when idealism and reality crash into each other and you If you have ever passionately invested yourself in living your faith championing a cause or representing some noble ideal you've probably experienced a faceoff between idealism and reality Society often recognizes its deficits poverty crime divisiveness anxiety excess yet it rarely celebrates the rise of people who want to change those shortcomings Still many of us chip away at the world as it is believing that a better world is possible While in that place where we work to see good come about we meet resistance almost daily between dreams and disappointment between wholeness and dysfunction between past and future This can lead to frustration bitterness disillusionment loneliness and exhaustion It can lead to people abandoning the church faith and God or just becoming more passive less passionate versions of their former faith charged selves Don't give in This book is your survival guide You can champion your cause and your faith even in a broken and dysfunctional world Stay in the race and take this guide along as source of fuel rest and encouragement along the way
