Aid, Governance, and Private Foreign Investment Philipp Harms,Matthias Lutz,2003 Report of the International Narcotics Control Board for ... International Narcotics Control Board,1998 Economic Instruments of Pollution Control in an Imperfect World Tingsong Jiang,2003 In this book Tingsong Jiang extensively discusses the wider issues of economic instruments of pollution control as well as paying specific attention to the control of carbon dioxide emissions in China The book begins with a general analysis of economic instruments of pollution control and is followed by the application of these in CO2 emission control The former presents the discussion of pollution control policies in general equilibrium settings focusing on the comparison of pollution taxes and tradable permits in certain kinds of circumstances with imperfections such as uncertainty and pre-existing distortions. An empirical evaluation of China's environmental policies is also included. The latter brings the discussion into the area of global warming policies with the focus on the implications to China. A dynamic general equilibrium model G-Cubed T is developed to produce CO₂ emissions projections from China, the US, and the rest of the world and to simulate various policy targets and instruments China may adopt to control its CO₂ emissions. With its systematic evaluation of China's environmental policy, this thorough and rigorous assessment will be invaluable reading for academics in environmental economics and environmental management, policy analysts in environmental protection and global warming fields, policymakers, and government officials around the world, as well as China specialists.
